Eisenhower Report Due Later Today

Press Aide Won't Amplify Statement On His Condition

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House said today President Eisenhower is "progressing satisfactorily" but that doctors are making "a further evaluation of his illness."

Associate White House press secretary Anne Wheaton said at 10:22 a. m. EST a report of the doctor's findings would be made "as soon as possible"—meaning later today.

Eisenhower suffered what the White House described as a "chill" yesterday after he returned from the airport where he welcomed King Mohammed V of Morocco.

The latest White House announcement raised the question whether the illness might be more serious than originally thought.

Declines To Comment

Asked if indications were that the President's condition might be more serious than originally indicated, Mrs. Wheaton declined any comment. She refused, despite repeated questions from reporters, to go beyond her brief announcement. That announcement said:

"The President is progressing satisfactorily. However, his doctors are making a further evaluation of the case at this time. A report of this evaluation will be made as soon as possible."

This statement followed an earlier announcement, at 8:55 a. m., that the President "is progressing very well."

Concern over Eisenhower's condition was heightened by his 1955 heart attack and last year's operation for ileitis.

Asked why it is necessary to make a further evaluation of a chill, Mrs. Wheaton said "I can't discuss that."

She also said she did not know if there was any indication the President's illness amounted to more than a chill.

She would not say who drew up the statement beyond saying it was the work of "two or three people."

Likewise Mrs. Wheaton declined to say whether any doctors besides the two who ordinarily attend the President have been called in. Eisenhower's doctors are Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder and Lt. Col. Walter Tkach.

Mrs. Wheaton said no thought was being given to the President's delivering from the White House tonight the speech on international cooperation which he originally planned to deliver at Cleveland tonight.

The Cleveland speech was canceled last night after the President became ill. So were all of today's appointments.

WAC Director Cites Falsies Not Necessary

TOKYO (AP)—The director of the U. S. Women's Army Corps said today she sees no need for introducing elsewhere a suggestion advanced here that WACs fill out their uniforms with falsies and girdles.

"We like for them to be independent in these matters," said Col. Mary Louise Milligan. "Our commanders are always interested in their women looking well. . . . They take pride in setting the pattern themselves."

WAC Lt. Jeanne Wolcott of Kent, Ohio, told her Yokohama WAC detachment in October to shape up with a little padding here and there and they did.

Marine Sergeant Acquitted Of Cruelty To Men In Brig

YOKOSUKA, Japan (AP)—A U. S. Navy court-martial today found Alabama Marine Sgt. Tommy G. Flint innocent of charges of cruelty to U. S. prisoners in a Navy brig.

A five-man officers board cleared Flint, 23, of Siles, Ala., of four counts of maltreatment after the accused Leatherneck admitted yesterday he roughed up two sailors and a fellow Marine "to try to run a better brig."

Flint, former warden at the Sasebo naval jail in south Japan, was one of 16 Marine ex-guards charged with maltreatment and facing court-martial. He told the court roughing up inmates was standard brig policy.

Jersey Solon Set To Retire At Term End

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP)—Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) said today he will retire from the Senate when his term expires in January 1959.

The veteran senator timed his announcement to coincide with a meeting of New Jersey Republican leaders, gathered to assess their prospects in the wake of the overwhelming re-election earlier this month of Democratic Gov. Robert Meyner.

Smith's withdrawal appeared likely to add fuel to an already hot race for the GOP nomination to succeed him. Former presidential aide Bernard Shanley and Rep. Robert W. Keane announced earlier this month that they would seek Smith's seat.

There had been speculation earlier that the 77-year-old Smith would withdraw, both because of the prospect of a battle for re-nomination and because of the ill health of his wife.

Smith said in a statement that he had talked with his wife about whether he should extend his 14 years of Senate service. "We have finally come to the conclusion that I should not do so," he said.

Shanley announced Nov. 7 he would seek Smith's seat "no matter who is going to oppose me." The Essex County Republican Committee approved a resolution last night endorsing Keane's candidacy. Keane announced two weeks ago he would seek the nomination.

Her knee was bruised, but she was able to continue the rehearsal for the Wednesday show.

Spain Sends Jets Against Rebel Force

MADRID, Spain (AP)—Authoritative dispatches from Spain's African colony of Ifni report more than 100 casualties in fighting there Saturday between Spanish troops and Moroccan rebels.

Spain was reported today to have rushed jet fighters to the tiny Atlantic coast colony.

The reports say 4 Spaniards were killed and 19 injured and more than 80 Moroccans were killed or wounded.

The casualties occurred when approximately 1,200 men of the "Moroccan Army of Liberation" attacked the arms depot at Sidi Ifni, capital of the 741-square-mile enclave, and Spanish frontier posts. Ifni faces Morocco on three sides.

Military informants in Madrid said an undisclosed number of planes, believed to include a squadron of Sabre Jet fighters, left Madrid yesterday for Sidi Ifni. The Sabre Jets were supplied to Spain by the United States in exchange for military bases in Spain.

Sputnik Rocket Plunge Forecast For Next Sunday

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—The final-stage rocket that launched Sputnik 1, history's first man-made satellite may make a flaming plunge to its death next Sunday, Dr. Fred L. Whipple, director of the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory, said today.

Dr. Whipple said Sunday is the most likely day, although it may be a day earlier or a day later.

Dulles Holds Session With African King

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles arranged to substitute for an ailing President Eisenhower today in reviewing North African problems with Morocco's visiting King Mohammed V.

Dulles moved in as a last-minute replacement after an illness the White House described as "a chill" caused Eisenhower's doctors to order him to bed late yesterday.

In a dinner toast last night, Vice President Nixon lauded the 48-year-old Moroccan ruler as "a great statesman" for his efforts to turn his nation into a bridge between the Arab countries and Europe.

On behalf of Eisenhower, Nixon presented the Legion of Merit to the Moroccan King and read Eisenhower's citation, which said of Mohammed: "No friend of the United States has shown himself more dedicated to the perpetuation of peace, and more perceptive of the necessity of safeguarding the ideals of all peaceful nations."

The King responded that his state visit and conferences "will further strengthen confidence and respect between our two peoples and open the way to a close and fruitful cooperation."

The Mohammed-Dulles talks seemed likely to focus mainly on three issues—the future of five American military bases in Morocco, the amount of American aid and the King's hopes of ending the battle between French forces and Algerian rebels.

Test Firing Of Satellite Set By Navy

December 4 Date Sixty Days After Sputnik Launched

WASHINGTON (AP)—Navy scientists hope to launch the first U. S. test satellite a week from tomorrow—just two months after Russia's pioneer Sputnik was fired into distant space.

A source high in the Vanguard satellite project said Dec. 4 has been picked for the attempt to send aloft a six-pound sphere six inches in diameter.

The attempt, he said, will be made about dawn at the U. S. Missile Test Center, Cape Canaveral, Fla. If conditions are not right at that time, the source said, another effort will be made perhaps two days later.

Several Tests Possible

Plans call for one or more launchings of small test spheres in December, with a fully instrumented 21-pound satellite to be fired in March. There has been some talk of a January launching of the fully developed satellite if the test succeeds.

Moscow radio said Russia's Sputnik 1, launched Oct. 4, still was going strong. But it said the rocket that carried the satellite aloft, and went into orbit at the same time, is expected to drop to destruction in the dense layers of the earth's atmosphere during the first 10 days of December.

In London, the British Supply Ministry predicted the rocket will fall this weekend, probably Friday. It said also it expects Sputnik I to come down in mid-January and Sputnik II early in February, but it said these forecasts were less definite.

The rocket is expected to make three passes over the United States both today and tomorrow. The passes are due during the evening twilight, favorable hours for observation.

After this week, scientists said, the rocket may not again be visible in the United States because it will cross over the country either during broad daylight or in darkness.

The Project Vanguard source who told of plans to fire the test satellite next week said it will be aimed southeastward and adjusted for a generally equatorial orbit.

If all goes as planned, he said, it should enter an orbit that would carry it to altitudes varying from 300 to 1,200 miles above the earth.

A 72-foot launching assembly weighing more than 22,000 pounds will be used.

The informant said the test sphere will have four tiny solar batteries fastened to the outside, plus four or six antennas. Radio signals will be transmitted continuously on 108 megacycles.

The batteries, drawing their power from the sun, are planned to last as long as the satellite itself. No estimate was given on the expected life span on this test vehicle.

Blasting Caps Peril Children As Police Hunt

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—Sheriff's officers are searching for at least five and perhaps as many as 87 highly explosive blasting caps believed to have fallen into the hands of schoolchildren at Otis Orchards, a Spokane suburb.

The desperate hunt was touched off yesterday after Jerry McConnell, 11, and his 9-year-old brother Timothy were seriously injured when one and possibly two of the caps exploded while they were playing at home.

Dag Seeks To Ease Tension In Mideast

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Diplomats said today U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld has a good chance of easing border tensions on his visit to the Middle East and may tackle two other big problems: Palestine refugees and charges that Turkey threatens to invade Syria.

He announced last night he will leave Friday for Jordan and will go to other countries in the area if his one-week schedule permits.

U. N. officials indicated that visits to Damascus, Cairo and Jerusalem may follow the trip to Amman. Syria, Egypt, Israel and Jordan all have been involved in recent flareups threatening a new crisis.

Hammarskjöld's decision to go to the Middle East apparently was spurred by Jordan's rejection of a U. S. Marine Col. Byron Leary as a U. N. mediator officer. Jordan said Sunday it considered Leary biased for Israel and would not accept his recommendations.

New exchanges of gunfire on Israel's borders with Jordan and Syria also appear to have played a part in the decision.

Shooting was reported on the Syrian-Israeli border yesterday. Israel charged that Syrian troops fired on settlers and on a car near the Israeli village of Dan, close to the area where an Israeli field worker was reported killed Sunday.

Another version came from Damascus. A Syrian military spokesman said a five-man Israeli unit entered the demilitarized zone and fired on Arab shepherds near Dares el Maghaweer. The spokesman said the Israelis withdrew to Dan, but he mentioned no gunfire there.

The latest clashes along Israeli borders with Jordan were touched off by a recent dispute about an Israeli motor convoy against which was prevented by Jordanian territory to Mt. Scopus.

Famed Flier Urges Boost In Defenses

Truman Statement Contradicted By Tokyo Raid Leader

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lt. Gen. James Doolittle (Ret.) testified today that Russia "certainly is ahead of us" in all land-fired missiles. He said the United States leads in air-to-air types.

Doolittle, who heads the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, told the Senate Preparedness subcommittee that this country fell behind Soviet Russia because it had no coordinated program until 1953.

He said the Russians started missile developments in 1946 and "they have been working harder at it than we have."

Contradicts Truman

Doolittle's testimony was in direct contradiction of contentions by former President Truman. Truman has said that he organized a unified missile program while in the White House but that it was allowed to deteriorate under the Eisenhower administration.

Doolittle, a famed flier who led the first World War II air raid on Japan, was the first witness of the Senate subcommittee's second day of hearings on the U. S. missile situation.

Based on the first day of hearings, when a group of scientists were heard, Chairman Johnson (D-Tex.) said he regards the Russian lead in missiles as "only a symbol of an even greater danger" that the United States may fall behind in the weapons of the future.

Johnson expressed this view in an interview.

Similarly, Doolittle said that unless the United States steps up its rate of progress the Soviet Union will surpass this country in all phases of military effort.

The one bright spot now, Doolittle said, is in American development of air-to-air missiles. He said he does not believe the Russians have a missile equal to the Falcon, which can be fired from a plane at another plane.

Nor, he said, does he believe the Russians can match the U. S. nuclear warhead air-to-air missile.

Doolittle said one reason the Russians are ahead is that they have a "double incentive."

"Under their system—and I recommend it—you either are rewarded for excellence or you are destroyed if you don't do a good job."

He said Russia is sacrificing more than the United States, putting about one-fourth of its production into military hardware, while the United States is spending.

Father Of Year Settles Damage Suit With $250

CHICAGO (AP)—Rep. Charles A. Boyle, twice acclaimed Chicago's "Father of the Year," settled his differences with a former landlord for $250.

The landlord, Dr. John P. Burke, filed a $5,000 suit last Thursday against the Illinois Democratic congressman contending that Boyle and his family of eight children removed permanent fixtures and damaged a six-room apartment before they moved out in December 1955.

The suit was settled yesterday after 30 minutes discussion in the chamber of Municipal Court Judge Harry P. Bean.

Boyle was picked as Father of the Year in 1952 and 1953 by a Chicago newspaper.

Ailing Tito Seeks To Ease Load By Regime Changes

Main purpose would be to take day-to-day routine work off the ailing Tito's shoulders. But he plans to make Edvard Kardelj, the leader of the Yugoslav government and Aleksandar Rankovic, the leader of the Yugoslav Communist party, self-planned the changes and proposed them to the Communist party's closest collaborators, are party Central Committee, which reportedly has been examining the sources indicated Kardelj then at closed meetings over the would become sort of a prime past several months.

U. S. Taxpayers Can Ignore Line

Business Expense Need Not Be Included In Returns

WASHINGTON (AP)—Switching

The law has required since 1921 the totals on the returns themselves. The Internal Revenue Service now says taxpayers on his expense account he listed easier to check on big expense accounts may ignore the line on their 1957 income. He then is allowed to deduct his actual expenses. But some tax fraud, but the law made the law been regularly ignored, especially by small taxpayers whose reimbursements only equalled their expenses.

These expenses and deductions for 1957 was made because the addition of the new line was not made public until after 10 months of the tax year had already gone by. Thus, he said, it had a retroactive effect.

Harrington said the decision to ignore the change in the tax form for 1957 was made because the addition of the new line was not made public until after 10 months of the tax year had already gone by. Thus, he said, it had a retroactive effect.

Taxpayers have emphasized to the service that most employees who receive reimbursements for expenses file bills and receipts for their employers and do not retain copies," he added. "To attempt now to secure data would place too great a burden on many taxpayers."

Harrington said, "Employees will treat travel, reimbursed expenses, etc. for 1957 as they have in the past."

Grave Openings Support Human Butcher's Story

WAUTOMA, Wis.—(AP)—Dist. Atty. Earl Kileen says excavation of two graves convinces him that Edward Gein actually did raid cemeteries for parts of nine bodies found in his farm home.

Waushara County authorities reopened two graves in the Plainfield Cemetery to check the story of the 61-year-old bachelor.

Gein, who is undergoing 30 days of mental observation, admitted killing two women and robbing the graves of nine other women.

He is charged with first-degree murder in the death Nov. 16 of Mrs. Bernice Worden, 32, a hardware store operator. He also admitted killing Mrs. Mary Hogan, a tavernkeeper, Dec. 9, 1954.

Authorities opened the graves of Mrs. Eleanor Adams and Mrs. Mabel Everson, both buried in 1951. Their names were on the list of women whose graves Gein said he looted.

Mrs. Adams' casket was empty. The other coffin also was empty, but Kileen said a few bones and a small pyrexia bar were found in the dirt above the empty casket. "As far as I am concerned, the opening of these two graves verifies Gein's story," Kileen said. "I won't open any more if I can help it."

Anglo-French Sessions End

PARIS (AP)—British Prime Minister Macmillan and French Premier Felix Gaillard ended their two days of talks today but apparently did not succeed in smoothing over completely the basic differences that brought them together.

The two leaders were anxious to remove a thorn in the NATO Alliance—the British-American supply of small arms to Tunisia which the French fear will wind up in the hands of Algerian rebels.

A communique said the two premiers agreed "that responsibility for a solution of the Algerian question lies with France."

Eisenhower Library Fund Drive Slated

ABILENE, Kan. (AP)—Preliminary arrangements have been completed for a nationwide campaign for three million dollars to build an Eisenhower library here in the President's home town.

Gov. George Docking and Harry Darby, former U.S. senator from Kansas, announced construction probably will start next year. The library will be across the street from the present Eisenhower home, or Museum. The house where the Eisenhower family lived when he was a boy also is maintained as the national shrine in Abilene.

Docking and Darby, co-chairmen of the library commission, announced Benjamin F. Fairless, president of the American Iron and Steel Institute and former president of U.S. Steel, will be chairman of the executive committee for the campaign. Ellison E. Ketchum of Miami, Fla., public relations consultant, will be campaign director.

Eisenhower's official papers already are being sorted and indexed for installation in the library.

"Atlas" Test Set At Florida Base, Newsmen Told

MISSILE TEST CENTER, CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Technicians were believed poised today for a third try at sending the Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile soaring through a successful test southeast over the Atlantic.

Newsmen alerted to the possible test today were advised by an unidentified informant that the giant 5,000-mile rocket might not go until later in the week.

When asked if the Atlas would be fired today, the source said, "I would keep my eyes open."

Infant Freed From Pipe By Patient Cop

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Patricia Ann Medvick, a 17-month-old blonde, spent a harrowing half-hour yesterday.

Her foot became caught in a drain in the family's North Side home. Her mother Mrs. Edward Medvick tried every way she knew to solve the problem, then called police.

Patrolman Albert Schmude worked half an hour with hammer and chisel to crack the pipe before Patricia Ann was freed.

Eisenhower

The illness forced Eisenhower to cancel his plans to attend last night's dinner for King Mohammed V, and a conference with the King today. Secretary of State Dulles sat in for him today.

Mrs. Wheaton made no comment when a reporter suggested that her terse announcements were "a very unusual treatment of a presidential illness." The newsmen recalled more detailed announcements were made when the President suffered his heart attack and the later intestinal disorder.

In her first report of the day Mrs. Wheaton said Eisenhower was resting comfortably and ate a good breakfast.

"Later in the morning there will be a medical statement on the condition of the President."

"He is resting comfortably, had a good breakfast and is progressing very well."

Mrs. Wheaton declined to say why the medical statement was held up. She also refused to elaborate in any other way on her announcement, beyond saying in answer to a question that all the President's appointments for today had been canceled.

Eisenhower was to have made a nationwide television-radio address on international cooperation at Cleveland tonight. That trip was called off too.

Eisenhower was to have conferred with Mohammed at 9 a.m. today.

After greeting the King at the chilly airport, Eisenhower had ridden with him in a downtown parade. He returned to his desk but quit work shortly afterward.

ing only about 8 1/2 per cent of its production for defense.

In addition, he said Russia has "a definite, clear-cut objective—communization and domination of the world."

"They have long range flexibility," he said. "They have a consistent plan to achieve, militarily, industrially and educationally."

"Must Sacrifice More" Doolittle said this country must "develop a sense of urgency—to sacrifice more."

Over and above all, Doolittle emphasized the need for maintaining "a strong, modern military establishment" to provide the strength that Russia respects, including modern submarines and antisubmarine missiles.

"The primary immediate requirement is a strong Strategic Air Command, which is our basic deterrent, and with sufficient aircraft to do the job," he said.

SAC should be strengthened, Doolittle said, with a heavy increase in aircraft and "missiles as fast as they can be developed and supplied."

Doolittle said Russian technology is "built on an excellent educational system and appreciation of the value of science."

"We must overhaul our own educational system, and provide more and better science teachers," he continued.

Earlier Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) said Russia's lead in missile production is "only a symbol of an even graver danger" that the United States may fall behind in weapons of the future.

Dixie Solons Can Vote On White Appointment

WASHINGTON (AP)—Southern Democratic senators were assured today of an opportunity to vote on President Eisenhower's choice of Asst. Atty. Gen. W. Wilson White to head the new Civil Rights Division in the Justice Department.

The White House announced a recess appointment to the new post. White, 51, now is in charge of legal counseling for the department. He told newsmen he might be sworn in for the new job next week.

Anne Wheaton, associate presidential news secretary, said White will resign from his present position and that he will be nominated formally for the new post when Congress reconvenes in January.

This scotched speculation that since White already had been confirmed as an assistant attorney general, Eisenhower might shift him to the new job without sending a nomination to the Senate.

Such speculation brought an angry protest during the weekend from Sen. Thurmond (D-SC) who staged a record one-man filibuster in an unsuccessful effort to block passage of the civil rights bill in the last Senate session.

Mrs. Wheaton said both Eisen-

Expert Asserts Meteor To Moon 'Possible' Soon

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Dr. Fritz Zwicky, Cal Tech astronomer and former rocket expert in Germany, says a man-made meteor possibly could be fired to the moon within the next three months.

Zwicky told an interviewer a few preliminary tests and perhaps $100,000 might result in landing a pound-and-a-half slug on the moon. Eventually, he added, fragments of such a slug probably could be made to glance off the moon and return to earth.

Youth Given Hearing For Local Holdup

The 13-year-old Long Hill youth who attempted to hold up a local jewelry store at gunpoint last week was given a hearing yesterday afternoon in Juvenile Court.

Magistrate Anderson at first was unable to get much out of the boy as to his reasons for attempting the jewelry store hold-up. The magistrate then cleared the court room and talked privately with him.

Investigation in the case indicated the boy comes from a large family and that the father and mother have been separated for over three years.

The boy told Magistrate Anderson his mother had very little money and he planned to give her some of the cash he hoped to get from the holdup.

The magistrate then told the boy that if he had been an adult he would be facing a long term in prison for the attempted robbery. He also pointed out to the mother her responsibility in the matter and then turned the lad over to her custody pending later disposition of the case.

The boy had been held in the county juvenile detention quarters in Allegany County in preliminary pending yesterday's hearing.

He was arrested about 1 p. m. November 22 by city police after one of two customers present during the holdup attempt lunged forward and grabbed him as he started to pick up a handful of bills from the proprietor.

Hobbies Bring Out Lazy Side

DENVER—(INS)—Denver University Chancellor Chester M. Alter says a hobby should bring out the best in the lazy side of a person.

Dr. Alter said, "If you're physically lazy, take up golf. If you're lazy about reading, you can always collect books."

The educator's own hobby is collecting and caring for cacti plants. He has more than 200 varieties of the desert plant in his greenhouse.

Dr. Alter explained, "I'm a lazy gardener. Actually I've little time to devote to caring for plants that are difficult to cultivate. But cacti... they have to be watered only once every two months in the winter. That appeals to me."

Dr. Alter, once a chemist and now an administrator, contends one's hobby shouldn't be closely related to his normal profession. He said it should be something entirely apart, a project that is relaxing, yet broadening.

OUR COUNTRY
The union of hearts, the union of hands and the flag of our Union forever.—Morris.

Effects Of War

THE MEN IN THE Kremlin are above all power politicians. To the extent that they are also severely realistic, hope for world peace may not hinge entirely upon the deterrent effect of our nuclear stockpile. That stockpile promises physical ruin in the Soviet Union which not even the rashest Russian likes to contemplate. But even if that sort of retaliation were not the prospect, men whose creed is power and nothing else may well have the gravest doubts that war is ever a wise course for them. The kind of total war we fight in the 20th century, with or without nuclear weapons, is totally unsettling. No government which engages in such warfare can be confident of its future.

MODERN WAR is so vast as to be unmanageable. Its effects not only are uncontrollable. They are to a large degree unforeseeable. It used to be said that war was an instrument of policy, that men undertook it deliberately to achieve specific, stated objectives. Any man in power anywhere in the world today who imagines that is still true must be rated a potential menace. Once launched upon, total war takes forms and directions of its own. Not only its result but its aftermath is unpredictable. A callous regime might discount the frightful cost in human life and property. It cannot disregard the peril to itself. For war warps all political, economic and social patterns. It is a bold—and foolish—man who thinks he can foresee the shape of things after the battle dust settles.

THE COMMUNIST leaders in Moscow have often in recent Russian history made serious mistakes. They are no supermen, for all their Sputniks. They sadly misjudged Hitler's aims toward them in World War II. This was an error almost fatal. Again and again they have sabotaged their own purposes through stupidities that seem inherent in the Communist way of thinking. Yet despite these important failures of judgment, Soviet leaders are shrewd, hard-headed, dedicated men. They are dedicated to the preservation of their own skins, and to the maintenance and enlargement of their power. So long as they themselves see realistically the danger war represents to them, we may be safe from another holocaust. Heaven help the world if ever their vision should become clouded in this critical area.

Desire To Help

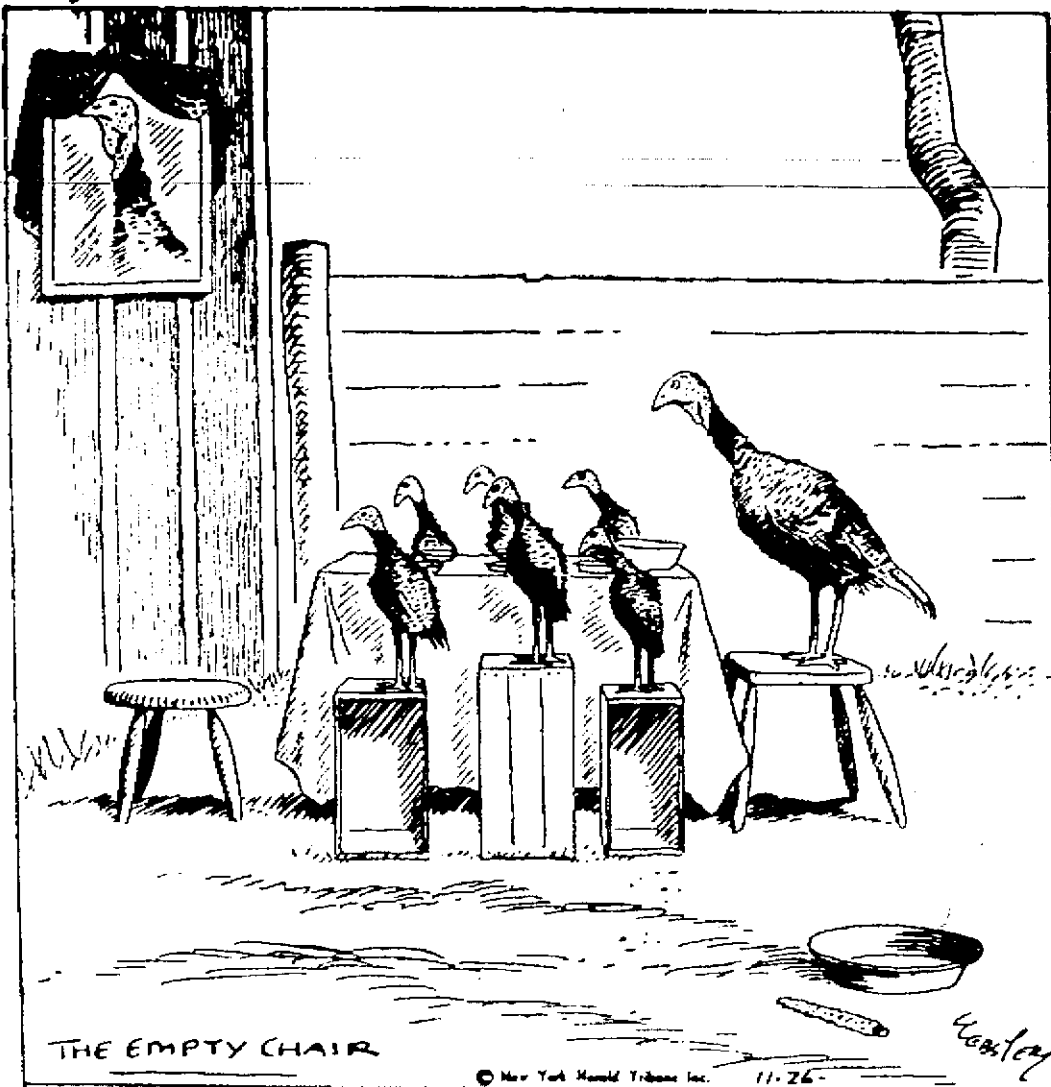

WITHIN THE bounds set by the normal caution of an opposition political leader, Adlai Stevenson is applying himself with commendable energy and spirit to the task of aiding America's preparations for the Dec. 16 NATO meeting in Paris. That he has chosen this middle path between a share in policy making and no help at all is partly a measure of Stevenson's keen interest in world affairs and partly a reflection of his view that the times are critical and demand a pooling of effort. Despite the limits he has placed on his cooperation, he takes a certain risk that his future attacks on this administration will be blurred and blunted. There can be little doubt that he has done so out of a sincere wish to serve his country.

National Yardwork

IN THESE DAYS when Uncle Sam's budget billions are being scrutinized by the public with more than usual care, hardly anyone is objecting to one fairly expensive undertaking called Mission 66. There is good reason for this benevolent attitude toward a project which will cost a very respectable number of millions before it is finished. Mission 66 is a 10-year program to improve the national parks, and the results will please virtually everyone. Mission 66 aims to put the national parks in first-rate shape for their golden anniversary year, 1966. It is expected that by then attendance will pass the 80 million mark, as compared with the record of more than 51 million who have visited the parks thus far this year. Improvements range from such things as footpaths and expansion of tourist facilities to major road and bridge projects. It is not at all surprising that Mission 66 has strong congressional backing and general public approval. The rich benefits derived from the national parks are widely appreciated.

Famous Parents Can Be Handicap To Child

NEW YORK — "It must be so easy and wonderful living in this world if your parents are a couple of slobs.
"If your dad is a drunk, all you have to do is stay sober and you're a hero. . . . If your dad is a nobody, and you get the lead in the school play, you're a big actor. If they're these things, you can hate your parents, you can be ashamed of them, you can live them down, and everybody thinks you're so understanding—so great."

Edward G. Robinson Jr., a lad whose sensitive face has appeared under sensational headlines for more than two years, didn't have it that easy.
"Could be having two fabulous persons for parents is tougher," he says. "You want to be a person in your own right," he shrugs. "That's hard."

EDDIE, BORN 24 years ago to the famous actor and an actress who couldn't settle for housewifery, got drunk for the first time at age 16, had an affair at 18, married at 19 and only recently graduated from Los Angeles county jail on a felony drunk driving charge — one of six serious run-ins with the law.

"Understand, I don't blame my father or mother," he says. "And I'm not personally ashamed of my life either. It's just the way things happen, under that kind of set-up. I guess we've all been a lot to blame."

EDDIE SAYS it's been six months since he had a drink. He's taking a pill that "makes you, deathly ill if you drink." After bouts with seven psychoanalysts, he's now found one he feels "free association with."

"Oh, I've been to a lot of guys (analysts), who were real dillies — swanky Beverly Hills dillies. Some of them kept bottles in their desks, to offer me a drink and keep my business. Some of them threatened to have me interred if I quit them."

The latest, the one Eddie respects, is a man who believes it's a cathartic to the troubled mind to write down your problems. So Robinson Jr., has just completed a book, "My Father—My Son," that was "a lot easier to write than it is to talk about."

THE autobiography, which he hopes will make Hollywood "turn their thumbs up on me again" and "help a lot of kids and a lot of parents understand each other better," has not only helped him get emotions off his chest—it also has brought the sequestered Robinson family closer together.

"Not because of," but concurrent with, Eddie Jr.'s brushes with liquor and the law, the elder actor and his wife were divorced a year ago. But "now, about the book," he says, "they're both pleased. We love each other more."

LOVE FOR his own young wife was a strong contributing factor to his most dramatic troubles. When she divorced him two years ago, "I went to hell. I torched for two years. I was very much in love with her and the kid. But now that's all over and she has a very nice fellow she may marry, and I hope she's happy."

He can see his four-year-old daughter Francesca any time, and she delights him, especially when she's saying her prayers. Which god, Eddie insists, thus: "God bless mother. God bless father. And God bless bubble gum."

Stevenson's Role Is Not Bipartisan

WASHINGTON — (NEA)—Adlai Stevenson's "consultations" with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles on how to strengthen the West's defenses against Russian missiles in no way commits the Democratic party to acceptance of Eisenhower's foreign policy. And Stevenson's consultations do not make it bipartisan policy, either.

For a parallel on the present situation, you have to go back to April, 1950, when the late Sen. Arthur Vandenberg suggested that John Foster Dulles be made a foreign policy adviser to Democratic Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

A month later, Dulles in a special broadcast declared that as things were going then, we were losing the cold war and we'd have to develop new and better techniques.
The Democrats think any similarity between the situation then and the situation today, as Stevenson steps into the limelight to consult on developing new and better techniques, would be something more than coincidental. It's the same, they say, only worse.

BUT TO GO back to 1950, President Truman and Secretary Acheson took Dulles at his word and gave him a chance to see what new techniques he could develop. He was made a special ambassador and assigned to negotiating a Japanese peace treaty.

Dulles accepted after talking it over with Senator Vandenberg, who decided that if Democratic diplomacy was that bankrupt, it was up to the Republicans to help save it.

The status of Dulles, as special ambassador for the president with full powers to negotiate, and the status of Stevenson today as a mere consultant are two different things.

Ambassador Dulles was an official instrument of bipartisan foreign policy. Stevenson is just an unofficial adviser.

THIS administration came to town in 1953 dedicated to the idea that Democrats didn't know beans about foreign policy.

Secretary Dulles began to clean up or clean out the State Department. The policy of containment of communism was kicked out and replaced by massive retaliation and liberation of the satellites.

The North Atlantic Treaty Organization is menaced by French opposition to American and British arms aid to Tunisia. And the Eisenhower doctrine for the Middle East is under stress in Egypt and Syria.

So now, with Republican foreign policies being challenged all over the earth, the administration begins looking around for Democratic support.

BUT UNTIL Stevenson and some of the Democratic leaders in Congress are made full partners in the Dulles international law firm, there is no bipartisan foreign policy.

Until there is one, Stevenson is considered perfectly free to criticize the Eisenhower-Dulles foreign policies as much as he pleases, and to push forward his own program.

That is now believed to cover these main points.

Complete reorganization of Department of Defense to catch up with Russian advances in all weapons—not just missiles.

Restore confidence of friendly nations in NATO.

Share secrets with allies or be prepared to give them far more aid.

Check Russian economic penetration of free world countries, as well as its military domination.

Step up science programs in schools without eliminating the humanities, but by cutting down on trills.

Farm Trouble

CITY DWELLERS, and even to some extent those who live in smaller towns, often find it hard to understand why the farmer has special problems which require special legislation. The one great factor that they most often ignore is the weather.

To the city dweller, weather basically is something that is either pleasant or unpleasant. Fine days are pleasant; he can leave his raincoat and rubbers at home, and perhaps plan a picnic. Cloudy days are depressing. Rain and snow have little meaning except in terms of his personal comfort.

Not so the farmer. Weather has a direct effect, not only on his personal comfort, but on the conditions of his labor. Weather is the biggest single factor in determining whether he has a good year or a bad year.

If enough rain falls on his land, if it is dry enough in the spring so that he can plow and plant, if there is enough sunshine at the proper time to mature the crops without burning them, if, if, . . . then he will have a good year. If there is too little rain, or if some of the other conditions are not right, he will have a bad year.

But the farmer's basic living costs, like those of everyone else, go on no matter what kind of a year he had. In a good year, his labor may figure out at several dollars an hour, and he will then be the envy of most factory workers. But in a bad year his labor may figure out at only 50 cents an hour.

What it boils down to is that

Glancing Sideways

NEW YORK — It is a little hard to tell whether New Yorkers are more stunned by the new anti-jaywalking experiment or the extraordinary courtesy of the police assigned to it, but they are stunned. They stand on the major street corners, teetering at the curbs, and stare deadpanned at the officers trying to teach them to save their lives and keep them from getting hurt.

I TOOK A WALK along Fifth and Madison Avenues the other afternoon and watched the experiment.

At major crossings the uniformed officers, slim, trim and affable, stood in the streets and tried their best. At this point, too, policemen's nerves haven't yet turned ragged. A sort of determined courtesy is being used and no one is being yelled at.

If a chic young lady, following instincts and freedoms used since childhood, comes bouncing along and without even glancing at the traffic lights steps out into the street, the nearest officer holds out his arm and hand—being scrupulously careful not to touch her — and says: "Young lady, please, back on the sidewalk. It would be a great pity if you were killed."

THIS REPORTER came to New York in April, 1924, from a small and casual town in which an automobile cruised Main Street every 20 minutes at a sedate and flashing 20 miles an hour. Jaywalking was no problem and we never had even a traffic light.

A railroad track cut right across Main Street at one point and there were manually operated gates which came down and prevented vehicles from being struck. A freight train of 65 cars would go through at a slow pace and maybe even as much as three cars and a spring wagon would be held up until it did pass.

BUT NEW YORK was different and it took less than a day to learn, all goggle-eyed, that only pedestrian rubes obeyed the lights. If you wanted to cross Fifth Avenue at 42nd Street, you shot a fractional, wary glance both ways and without even hesitating you stepped out into traffic and made your way to the opposite sidewalk. If someone stood and waited, you took him for a visiting stranger and left him standing there.

In Seventh Avenue in the 30's, then as now the garment sector, traffic was heavy. It made no difference. You walked through it from one side to the other and never were grazed or menaced. Some were, and died because of it.

But New Yorkers, individually, felt that it would never happen to them. They went right on walking out into and across traffic. We developed a nimble, quick-thinking group. I have even seen, when the traffic clot was especially thick, artful young men open a cab door, step in and step out through the opposite door. Saved waiting for the cab to move.

BUT NOW IT'S different. We're going to have about 60 days of courtesy and example, to be followed by statutes governing jaywalking. They hope, in 60 days, to cure the habits of a century. It's going to be a tough fight and I hope they win — but I doubt it.

New Yorkers, for one thing, tend to ignore corner crossings and stream their way through traffic in mid-block. Manifestly, there just aren't enough police to form a line all the way down the block and since the present order to police is not to yell, the middle-of-the-block set has things and business going as usual.

THE PHRASING of the courtesies from the police has, apparently, been left pretty much up to the individual officer. He can be a stern but polite fellow who says "Sir" or "Madam" and stops jaywalking or he can be a trim Irish lad who, with a smile, says to a pretty girl: "Honey, you're much too pretty to be on a slab in the morgue. Get on the sidewalk please until the lights change."

Or, as one on Fifth said to an old man the other afternoon: "Pop, you look like a charming guy. You probably have grandchildren who love you. How about living awhile longer by getting back to the sidewalk?"

IN ANY CASE, there have been no harsh words — yet. No assigned officer has yelled: "All right, all right, get back, you!" But it will come. It always does. This is no poke at the police. It is a poke at a freedom-loving, hard-to-crack core of individualistic humanity called New Yorkers. They'd rather be hit by a truck than lose their right to cross a street when and where they please.

There was once a play about the Erie Canal called "The Farmer Takes a Wife," and it was based on the bitter fight between the canalers and the railroads. In one scene a canaler came on stage torn and battered and crying out: "I stood up to it, I stood up to that danged engine!" New Yorkers are just like that. They'd rather stand up to a 10-ton truck doing 30 miles an hour than have someone try to save their lives.

Reporter's Notebook

NEW YORK—Among the little things in life that try a man's soul is finding the courage of a sudden conviction or, more precisely, an explanation for his wife.

For example, it is 6:16 p.m., and our hero is out of the office but still downtown enjoying some spontaneous, unplanned relaxation. He has just had two drinks with the boys and the problem now is, not whether he will have more but how to tell his wife.

He moves to the phone uncertainly.

How does he tell her? How does he break the lyric news that between the two biggest pressure groups in his life—his office and his home—he has discovered a wonderful world of limbo, in which nothing is demanded of him except the courage to linger?

CAN HE TELL THE simple truth? He cannot.

So, what does he tell her? Here are some of the angles:

The paranoid career man: "Isn't it nauseating, sweetie? Eight hours a day, five days a week, the boss doesn't even say hello to me. And now, tonight, he wants to have a conference over a couple of drinks."

The salesman on the verge of Armageddon: "Well, honey, we did it again! The commission should run into four figures. It's all sewed up—just about. Few more drinks and I'll have old J.M. in the bag."

The Madison Ave. man, early in his career: "Of course, I sound panicky, darling. The roof's caving in. The whole campaign's up in smoke and we got to start tunneling tonight."

The timid bookkeeper, or cold calculator: "Love, what kind of a day did you have?" Then 10 minutes later: "How awful! You must be exhausted. Why don't you just have a bowl of soup and go to bed now. No, don't worry about my dinner. I'll pick up something in town."

THE REVERSE psychologist: "Look, Ethel, you're simply going to have to do something about our three-party line. I've been trying to get you for an hour, before you fixed dinner, because I'm staying."

The double-reverse psychologist: "You can't know how I envy you. I'll bet you were just putting little Tommy into his crib. I'll bet he was making that funny little noise again. How I wish I could be there! Kiss that freckled nose for me, darling. I won't be able to."

The friend of man: "Lord, I wish people wouldn't pile their troubles on me! Yeah, it's Charley and Jane again. Seems serious this time — Charley even used the word divorce. Insists I meet him tonight for couple of drinks. Thank goodness, darling, you and I have a better understanding."

Washington Scene

WASHINGTON—It is my pious hope that Adlai Stevenson and John Foster Dulles are not sacrificing their natural distaste for each other in vain. If nothing constructive comes of this eerie fraternization it will be a doleful setback to the strange new spirit of abnegation that is struggling to life in the land.

The collaboration of the Democratic party's two-time loser for the presidency with the GOP Secretary of State should appeal to the best in us, if there is any left. It could be as inspiring as the lion lying down with the lamb, or the mongoose taking the cobra to lunch.

It will be a crying shame if it all comes to naught, because success would have proved to this torn world that anyone can get along with anyone else, if one will only submerge his antipathies. I would surmise that if you scoured the universe, even unto the milky way, you would not find two bodies as antipathetic as Adlai and John Foster.

If he was catering to his own inclinations, Dulles would as soon have Stevenson as an Atlantic pact consultant as publicly beseech his predecessor, Dean Acheson, to tutor him at night on how to be a Secretary of State.

CONVERSELY, if Adlai was thinking only of himself, instead of running amok with altruism, he would not care to sit in the same ball park with John Foster, much less at the same conference table.

But both are now practicing the wonderful old doctrine of give and take. Each feels, in his selfless way, that he has to take more than he gives.

The alliance of Stevenson and Dulles, which would have been regarded as a grotesque mesalliance only a few weeks ago, typifies the new spirit that is arising among us. Critics are wailing critics.

Adversaries are huddling with adversaries. You'd almost think we were afraid of something.

There are features to the Stevenson-Dulles entente, however, that are not as sizarre as they may seem at first glance. After all, it may be easier for John Foster Dulles to get a NATO policy squared away with Adlai E. Stevenson than Thomas E. Dewey.

Conversely, it may be easier for Stevenson to get a NATO policy squared away with Dulles than for him to square anything with Harry S. Truman. And it may be easier for Dulles and Stevenson to get yesses and noes out of each other than any kind of answer out of Ike.

THE LETTER THAT President Eisenhower sent to the man he twice defeated for the big job seemed a gem that ought to be preserved in a museum as the Kolbinor of ambiguity. Ike wrote Adlai, "I am delighted that you and Foster will be getting together on Monday" and then voiced the hope that he would be out of Washington before Monday.

As my bride said, in winning the interstate redundancy championship in Albuquerque in 1951, "that could be very ambiguous double entendre, meaning doubly talk."

The coalition is almost too out of this world for our mundane minds to grasp. It is as supernatural as if Perle Mesta had called in Gwen Craftz as special consultant on whom to snub at their next joint party. Who would have dreamed that when the Russians unleashed Sputniks I and II, those arrows in the air would have taken a tangential flight and shot both Dulles and Stevenson in their awareness?

Khrushchev has done more to bring our politicians together than the Republicans and Democrats could ever do.

Six more sputniks, and Harry Truman will be invited to the White House—accompanied by General MacArthur.

Council Will Act On Fire Truck, Gas Rate Boost

The Mayor and Council has two important business items when it meets next Monday.

One is awarding of a contract for a new pumper at Central Fire Station.

The other concerns the C&A Gas Company's request for an increase in rates.

Both matters were postponed yesterday when Street Commissioner William H. Buchholtz was absent because of flu and City Attorney Thomas B. Finan was on vacation.

Murray Wants Some U. S. Atomic Secrets Shared

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thomas E. Murray yesterday advocated scrapping most of the mandatory secrecy provisions of the Atomic Energy Act and sharing some weapons as well as know-how with America's allies.

Murray, who was frequently at odds with the Eisenhower administration when he was a member of the Atomic Energy Commission, thus ranged himself in support of—or possibly ahead of—the President in seeking changes in the Atomic Energy Act.

He made his suggestions in his capacity as a consultant to the Senate - House Atomic Energy Committee, which distributed the 3,500-word document.

Rep. Durham (D-NC), chairman of the joint committee, said at his home in Chapel Hill that he agrees with most conclusions reached by Murray.

He said also that the "common nuclear stockpile for the defense of the free world" which he proposed should be limited to small weapons, with the United States retaining custody over the larger ones and "exclusive right of decision with regard to the circumstances of their actual use."

Secrecy, Murray said, has been "the dominant element" of the Atomic Energy Act.

"Secrecy cannot halt Soviet progress," Murray said, but by maintaining it "we are in the anomalous position of denying to our friends the knowledge and skills that are the strength of the common enemy."

BRIDGEPORT, Conn.—(INS)—Declining orders brought a third quarter operating loss and a dip in volume for the Bullard Company, manufacturers of machine tools. Shipments amounted to $7,193,558, compared with $10,805,203 in the preceding quarter and $9,455,879 in the same period of 1956. The company had a net operating loss of $140,693, compared with net income of $275,323, or 38 cents per share, for the third quarter a year ago.

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif.—(INS)—Gross revenue of Hilton Hotels Corporation rose to a record $146,569,000 for the nine months ended Sept. 30 compared with $142,830,000 for the same period of 1956. Net operating profit, however, declined to $6,513,382, or $1.56 a share, from $7,255,411, or $1.90 a share, on a smaller number of shares, a year ago. The company attributed the decline to expenses for extensive modernization, rewiring and air conditioning projects.

NEW YORK—(INS)—The National Industrial Conference Board reported today that over-supply at the manufacturing level, rather than a decline in consumer demand, is primarily responsible for the prolonged cut-back in U. S. textile production. The board said a study showed manufacturers' stocks are now about ten per cent above "normal."

Thanksgiving Turkey To Be Lowest In Years

By The Associated Press

The lowest turkey prices in years and plentiful supplies of fruits and vegetables in most areas should make this a happy Thanksgiving for housewives.

The slight drop in food prices in October, as reported last week by government economists, reflects declines at the wholesale level starting in mid-August. Low turkey prices, brought about by a bumper crop of birds, should help to keep overall prices down this month.

More Big Birds Offered

Bigness in turkeys applies to more than the total crop this year. Home economists report there are more big birds on the market with only 17 per cent of the total made by small birds compared with 26 per cent in 1955. The reason is simple—large birds cost less per pound and offer more meat to bone.

Many chains are holding to the prices set last week for turkeys and other Thanksgiving items, although some price shaving on turkeys was reported.

Produce men said it was a shoppers' holiday in the fruit and vegetable markets, with just about every section of the fresh market in the good buy category.

Cranberries, the traditional accompaniment for turkey, are abundant. In addition to good stocks of canned berries, the fresh crop this year is reported 8 per cent above last year's and 12 per cent over the 1946-55 average.

Other outstanding buys for the housewife to choose from include cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, celery, eggplant, endive, escarole and potatoes. Onions, where they're available from nearby fields, also are an outstanding buy.

Slightly higher in price this week but still in the good buy class are snap beans, broccoli, cucumbers, lettuce, green peppers, squash, radishes and sweet potatoes.

Citrus Fruits Plentiful

As for fruits, apples and the big three in the citrus division (oranges, grapefruit and tangerines) all are outstanding buys. Heavy supplies of Washington apples share top billing with those from eastern growing areas, while California and Florida varieties are still struggling for dominance in the citrus field.

Emperor grapes from California are still a good buy. Also available, at slightly higher prices, are a few melons such as casabas and Santa Claus melons.

Wall Street Hears...

NEW YORK — (INS) — Wall Street Hears: Record billings of two billion dollars anticipated for Westinghouse in 1957 with fourth quarter business the best of the year. Net likely to approach $4 million. Officials of B. F. Goodrich look for auto sales to total 6,100,000 in 1958, about 100,000 below anticipated volume this year. Plough, Inc., earnings seen at two million dollars compared with $1.2 million a year ago. Pressure on Domestic Copper Producers' 27-cent price increases as world markets show lower tendencies. Belgian Congo prices have been cut to 23.6 cents; spot copper in London is down to 22.9.

The shape of some things to come, says Sid Lurie of Josephthal and Company, is discernible in some industries. "For example although high inventories now are plaguing the oil industry cold weather will solve many of today's problems. And the weather obviously isn't affected by the business cycle."

Alpha Portland Cement earnings this year are expected to be $2.75, according to Bache and Company, vs. $3.45 in 1956. The reduction was due in part to poor building weather early in the year and strikes. "A sharp recovery" is seen for 1958.

Market comment—Walter Maynard of Shearson, Hammill and Company: "It will probably be prudent for investors to beware of becoming over-enthusiastic in the event of further strength and to concentrate purchases in issues which can be expected to benefit from increased armament activity, easing in interest rates and a strong bond market."

Furnace Needs Loving Attention

DENVER—(INS)—Take the advice of a state supreme court judge, your furnace needs care and loving attention.

Justice Albert T. Frantz of the Colorado Supreme Court left his home in Denver for three days to attend a lawyers' convention.

While he was gone, the gas-fed hot air unit ran wide-open for the full three days. The house got so hot that even the thermostat thermometer blew up.

Total damage from heat ran more than $1500. Apples left on the kitchen table by Mrs. Frantz were baked.

The family parakeet suffocated and house plants died. Furniture was badly scorched, candles melted over the dining room buffet, plaster walls cracked and even toilet bowls baked dry.

Furnace experts told him he was lucky the furnace unit did not explode.

OKEMAH, Okla. (AP) — Mrs. J. G. Bruton said a friend wrote a Texas motel for a reservation and asked if he could bring along his dog.

The reply said: "We have never had a dog fall asleep in bed smoking and burn anything up. We have never had a dog spill alcoholic drinks all over the furniture and ruin it. We have never caught a dog leaving the premises with a bath towel or pillowcase in his suitcase. Sure, the dog is welcome."

Safecracker Bond Is Set

Bond has been set at $15,000 for Earl Franklin, 31, of Johnson City, Tenn., on a burglary charge during preliminary hearing held yesterday in Oakland before Magistrate Earl C. Friend.

Franklin was returned to Garrett County from Tennessee on Friday by Sheriff James Frantz in connection with a July 29 safe-cracking at a hardware store in Friendsville.

He is being held for action of the March grand jury.

Meanwhile, Franklin is being held in the Garrett County Jail at Oakland.

A total of $37,510 was taken from the safe of the F. G. Fox and Sons Hardware Store with $25,000 of the total in non-negotiable U.S. savings bonds.

Elwood Kissner, 26, former Friendsville resident, and Oliver Rockett, 33, of Baltimore, were tried in Garrett County Circuit Court September 6 and sentenced to 10 years each in the state penitentiary for grand larceny and breaking and entering.

Police said the two men both identified Franklin as the one who actually cracked the safe.

Rockett told the court he burned the $25,000 worth of bonds in the back yard of his home in Baltimore a few days before he and Kissner were apprehended.

About $4,400 was recovered from a rock pile near Friendsville and another $1,900 was located at the Richmond, Va., home of relatives of one of the men.

Franklin was believed to have been in possession of between $6,000 and $7,000 of the loot.

To Take Breathing Spell: Water Department Will Review Future Projects

The Water Department will take a "breathing spell" before it begins any major construction projects, Commissioner Wil-son said yesterday. Notes produced better than 3% interest. He said the most urgent phases of the modernization of the Lake Gordon filtration plant have been the Water Department will have completed during a construction spent over $50,000 by the end of program which has cost well the current fiscal year from over $1,000,000. Additional funds will have to be secured he added, to complete the full program which was started in 1954. Commissioner Edwards said a complete study of the remaining phases of the modernization plan will be made before any additional construction is recommended.

Yesterday, the city authorized the payment of $25,555.82 to the Hazell Wood Construction Company for completed Lake Gordon filter plant alterations. The city will retain the final $4,692.24 until next April.

Before yesterday's payment, the city had spent $689,276 for modernization and boosting the plant's capacity from 12,000,000 gallons to 18,000,000 gallons a day.

This financed the construction of six new filter units and the modernization of the original 12 filter units, with the exception of motorization of valves on the old units.

In addition to this work, two modern mixing and flocculation basins have been installed and repairs have been made to the plant's original clearwell.

Edwards said additional work needed includes the motorized valves, which were estimated to cost about $70,000, repairs to the gate chamber at Lake Gordon, estimated at $5,000 and repairs to the face of Lake Gordon.

The last item, which would call for gunning—spraying concrete upon the surface—was estimated to cost about $90,000 when the Robert T. Regester, consulting engineer, back in 1951. It would be more today, Mr. Edwards said.

The total modernization program was estimated to cost $600,000 six years ago.

Another item of the program which is under consideration is the installation of a pump, with a $45,000 price tag in 1951, to allow the filter plant to use a 50-day supply of water which will not flow in by gravity.

The Water Department has also completed, at cost of $365,328.71 a water line to the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company's plant at North Branch, and this brought expansion and modernization costs, with yesterday's payment, to some $1,180,160.

The modernization program was started with $175,000 in a post-war construction fund, and augmented by $350,000 and $750,000—bond issues.

Annual Somerset County Festival Dates Announced

MEYERSDALE—The eleventh Selection of a new Pennsylvania Maple Queen at a contest Festival, March 21-23, 1958, will be in Cochran Junior High School again headed by Herman E. Auditorium in Johnstown, February 23, 1958, is the first phase of the festival. This year he has been selected to be the contest a senior girl from Somerset County's 12 high schools competes for the title of Maple Queen. The "drafting" of Basehor covered title of Maple Queen. came as a result of a meeting. County schools are already working on local preliminary contests to select their participants for the contest. Winner of the title receives a State Scholarship and a Maple Festival educational award, plus numerous gifts. She also has an opportunity to be a guest and compete in the annual Pennsylvania Grocers' Association convention and scholarship contest which offers a $1,000 scholarship as top prize.

Pennsylvania's Queen Maple X. Miss Agnes Rose Oaks of Cairnbrook, was winner of this scholarship last June at the grocers' convention in Atlantic City. Coronation ceremonies, the queen's ball, parades and tours to maple camps are several of the top features of the Maple Festival. As in previous years, plans for the festival are being formulated. Several tours will originate in Pittsburgh and travel by both the B & O Railroad and chartered buses.

At the present time negotiations are underway to bring tours out of Philadelphia, Washington and Baltimore to the Maple City. In 1957 the Maple Festival had as honored guests Governor Joseph B. Johnson of Vermont. He was accompanied by Elmer E. Towne, Commissioner of Agriculture, and Donald L. Tobin, assistant director of the development commission.

Tax Increase Indicated In Talk To Club

McKeldin Reports Maryland Requires Additional Money

OAKLAND, Md. (AP)—Gov. McKeldin has dashed cold water on any optimistic thinking that State taxes won't go up.

At a speech before the Lions Club in this Western Maryland community last night he said it is quite probable his budget message to the 1958 General Assembly will suggest new levies. The budget, he said, very likely "will cite the need for certain tax rate increases or certain new taxes other than those which would be imposed by the Assembly's over-riding of my veto."

The governor was referring to the possibility the Legislature may reject his veto of a $400 pay raise for public school teachers. At the same time, McKeldin pleaded that the veto be allowed to stand.

He repeated his belief already expressed many times that it is primarily the duty of cities and counties to assume responsibility for support of schools. He put it this way:

"I vetoed that bill because I believed, even in those pre-Sputnik times, as I have believed for many years, that the civil divisions of the state—the counties and Baltimore City—must not abandon their primary responsibility for support of our public schools."

The Republican governor said that requests from the State Department of Education total more than 6 million dollars above current appropriations. And of this, he added, some 3 1/4 millions are mandatory appropriations required by law.

He did not elaborate on what requests of other State departments are running to.

As for taxation, McKeldin suggested lawmakers should put the pinch on equality. His suggested tax increases, he said "will be equitable in nature, designed for distribution over the entire populace and not a burden to any one segment of our economy."

The governor said he will have to go into several more sessions with his aides before he'll know how much more money will be required to balance the budget.

Meanwhile, the comptroller's office in Baltimore reported yesterday that retail sales tax receipts were lagging. In the first four months of the current fiscal year, it said, receipts fell $289,966 below the figure for the same period last year.

(However, income tax receipts for the identical comparison period were $1,798,206 higher this year than last. A spokesman said this may have been due to a better withholding system in effect rather than an actual increase in money.)

Nudists Face Problem In Meeting Duke

LONDON — (INS) — Britain's hardy sunbathers are getting heated up over the question of what a nudist should wear when he meets a real live duke.

The problem was bared at the annual conference of the British Sunbathing Association, called to discuss preparations for the sixth World Nudist Congress to be held next August.

Association Secretary Arthur Hodgson disclosed that the site for the congress would be on the vast Woburn Abbey estate of the Duke of Bedford, Britain's best-known "Stately Home" proprietor.

His Grace Bedford, who has the majority of other impoverished noble owners of ancestral halls gnashing their teeth at the way he packs the public into his magnificent abbey at 30 cents a time, is being urged to greet delegates to the congress.

Hodgson pointed out that the Duke would definitely be fully dressed if he received the delegates. Hodgson added:

"Obviously, we must be fully dressed, too, for a meeting which involves outsiders."

Gamblers At Lake Tahoe Big Eaters

LAKE TAHOE, Calif. — (INS) — The only "sure thing" at Lake Tahoe's casino row, just across the California border in Nevada, is around-the-clock good food, and lots of it.

Winners, losers, and players just breaking even all have healthy appetites from the 6,000-foot plus altitude and the exertion of pulling slot machine handles.

Nearly 10,000 persons a day eat in dining rooms of two of the packed south shore establishments where food is prepared under the supervision of Executive Chef John Menzemer.

Menzemer, a native of LaCrosse, Wis., served his apprenticeship under French, German and Swiss chefs in dining car work. A chief commissary steward in the Navy in World War II, he was the chef at three big California hotels before joining the casino staff.

I.C. Alexander Announces For Seat In House

Irvin C. "Irish" Alexander, a Democrat, announced yesterday that he will be a candidate for the House of Delegates, subject to the Republican primary next May 20.

A native of Gilmore, he is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John H. Alexander and at one time worked at the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company plant and also at the Celanese plant. He operated a restaurant in Ligonizing a few years ago.

In making his announcement, Alexander said in part:

"During the past year we have seen vicious political machines emerge, teachers highly underpaid, veterans trampled on and road conditions in Allegany County the worst in the state. He singled out State Route 26 from Frostburg to Westernport.

"We must have consideration for equal employment opportunity and legislation to prevent discrimination against middle-aged and handicapped men and women in employment.

"In connection with appointments made by the State Central Committee, it is a known fact that several county office holders are using the State Central Committee for their own political purposes. I don't think that any state-salaried or county-salaried employee should be allowed to serve on the State Central Committee. The party has ignored the women voters of Allegany County . . . some of our women voters are as capable of holding public office as anyone else, and should be given due consideration."

IRVIN C. ALEXANDER

Area Church Anniversary Is Observed

The LaVale Methodist Church observed its tenth anniversary this Sunday.

Rev. W. W. Patterson, pastor, noted that the church started because of the growth of that section of LaVale and the desire of some 50 members of Park Place Methodist Church to establish a church closer to their own homes and relieve crowded conditions at Park Place.

In the original charter for LaVale Methodist Church, there were 70 members, many of whom were at the service Sunday and were recognized as the charter was called.

Today, Rev. Patterson noted, there are 325 members of the church, and church property has grown from 112, 10 years ago to 314. The Woman's Society of Christian Service has increased in membership from 35 to 76, and all departments of the church show steady expansion.

J. Frank Richardson is superintendent of the Sunday school. The church organist is Mrs. Harold W. Green and the choir director is Mrs. Ralph P. Wimer.

Phone Booth Looters Have Sentences Reduced

HAGERSTOWN, Md. — Three Ohio men who had appealed three-year sentences for the looting of telephone coin boxes received lighter penalties yesterday in Washington County Circuit Court.

Judge D. K. McLaughlin pronounced indeterminate terms of not more than two years each on Wilbur Alcon, 23, Donald N. Debow, about 22, and Ronald Williams, 24, all of Dorset, Ohio.

They pleaded guilty to the larceny of $181 from telephone pay station boxes along U.S. 40 between Hagerstown and the Allegany County line to the west.

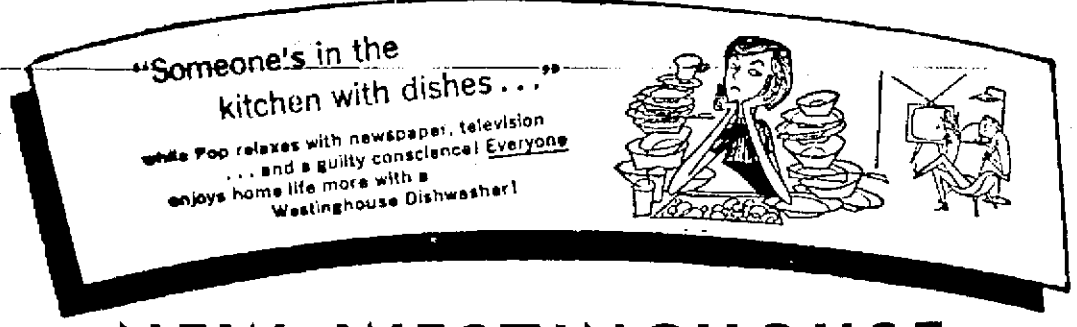

They had appealed from magistrate court sentences totaling three years each.

McLaughlin sentenced them to six months in the Maryland Reformatory for Males on each of four counts.

The men were arrested Sept. 13 in New Jersey.

They heard the lighter sentences pronounced after defense counsel told the judge that, except for an auto theft conviction against Williams, the men had had no other serious trouble with the law.

State's Atty. Tom Kaylor told the court the men had admitted 30 to 35 other telephone coin thefts in Ohio, Maryland, Pennsylvania and North Carolina.

British Toys Show Return To 'Old Loves'

LONDON — (INS) — British toy-makers have outdone themselves this year in producing clever, good quality, safe and dependable toys for the Christmas trade at home and abroad.

A preview for Christmas showed a return to favor of old-fashioned toys. Boys prefer cowboy outfits to space ships and girls still love dolls and teddy bears.

But the special exhibition besides unveiling a number of new and ingenious products also showed that the British toy industry has adopted the realistic approach to toymaking and goes out of its way in modernizing and improving popular toys.

The display included soft toys, dolls, wheeled toys, mechanical toys, toys for tiny tots, educational and constructional toys, model railways, plastic, metal, wooden and rubber toys, Christmas decorations, crackers and carnival novelties, indoor games and playsets. Many of these products have also been shipped abroad, and provide an excellent guide to the British industry.

B&O Income On Decline

BALTIMORE — The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad today announced its net income for October was $3,068,107. This was $512,466 under the figure for October 1956.

Operating revenues for October 1957 amounted to $41,292,469 compared with $40,973,862 for the same month last year. Over the 10-month period, however, operating revenues were $391,066,006, an increase of $4,537,743 over the similar period of 1956.

Last week the railroad announced it was cutting its dividend rate in half, to 25 cents for each 1958 quarter. That announcement followed a few days after the B&O said it would seek to abolish its deficit passenger lines running from Washington to Baltimore.

Ridgeley Man Being Held For Larceny

Robert Cecil Shaffer, 20, of Ridgeley, is being held in the Mineral County Jail at Keyser under $1,500 bond on charges of grand larceny and injuring public utility property.

The charge of grand larceny was placed against the youth by West Virginia State Police at Keyser for the Pressnell Auto Parts Company of Ridgeley, while the second charge was preferred by the Western Maryland Railway Company.

Shaffer waived a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace Madeline Bazzle late last week on the two charges.

Lt. B. F. Beaky of the Western Maryland Police said Shaffer was wanted in connection with taking a section of message line from poles along the right-of-way of the railroad on the night of June 21.

In a statement to Western Maryland Police, Shaffer said that on June 21 he drove his auto to the Mithenberg Road, without headlights, and parked. He then climbed four or five poles and cut down the wire.

The following day he drove to Hollidaysburg, Pa., where he sold the wire for $8.80 to the J. Sender Company.

The grand larceny charge was placed against the youth after he stole several automobile tires and rims from the company.

His case will come before the January term of Mineral County grand jury.

Land Dispute Case Aired In Local Court

The first condemnation case in connection with the acquisition of land for the Cumberland Thruway project continued today in Circuit Court.

After additional testimony this morning the case was recessed until this afternoon by Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris, who is presiding. A jury is sitting in the case.

Representing the State Roads Commission in its case against Market Buildings, Inc., owners of about 19 acres of land on the north side of Braddock Road between the roadway and Braddock Run and running from Allegheny Grove to a point opposite the SRC district office, is William C. Walsh and Frederick A. Puderbaugh.

Attorneys for the Market Buildings firm are W. Earle Cobey, William A. Gunter, and Noel Speir Cook. The members of the jury visited the scene yesterday in a school bus and traveled on an old road which will follow the Thruway right of way.

The SRC has deposited $9,500 with the clerk of court as its offer for the land. Henry F. Frederick, right-of-way engineer for the SRC, and D. Clifford Goodfellow and James B. Reinhart, local realtors, have appraised the property and said the $9,500 is a fair value.

County Makes Plans For New Structure

Would Replace Old Buildings Used On Farm Property

The Allegheny County Board of Commissioners is having plans and specifications drawn up for a new building on the county farm property just off Furnace Street, to replace several old frame structures which will be razed.

Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker of the Cumberland Fire Department recently condemned the old frame buildings as hazards. The structures are located along the roadway and are adjacent to Sylvan Retreat, the county's mental institution.

Chief Parker said the frame buildings posed a danger to the inmates at the retreat.

The new structure will be of one-story concrete block and be 88 feet and eight inches long and 34 feet wide. Provisions will be made to garage three cars and, there will be separate sections for a slaughter house and work shop.

The county annually slaughters about 10 head of cattle and many hogs which makes up part of the food served to the inmates of the three county institutions, the Retreat, County Home and County Infirmary. More than 300 persons are cared for at the three institutions.

The hogs are raised on the county farm while the cattle are purchased early enough to graze there some months in order to fatten them for slaughter.

The county also received a claim today from the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company for two utility poles which were knocked down on Fairview Road, one half mile north of Williams Road on Warrior Mountain on October 24. A truck operated by a County Road Department employee struck the two poles and knocked them down. The claim will be processed through the insurance firm which has fleet insurance on county vehicles.

Half County Students Get Insurance

Rates As Well As Benefits Under Program Increased

Slightly over half of the enrollment in Allegheny County public schools is protected by student accident insurance, Arthur G. Ramey, Board of Education supervisor, announced today.

This is the fifth straight year that the inexpensive accident coverage has been offered by the board.

Signed up are a total of 8,000 children of the total enrollment of approximately 16,000.

Total Down Slightly

This is slightly less than last year when 9,000 were covered, and Ramey attributed this to the fact that the policy rate increased.

While the rate has gone up, so have the benefits for total disability. School officials felt the 25-cent increase was desirable in view of the amount of the benefits received, Ramey said.

The coverage is handled by the Board of Education through the Pilot Life Insurance Company of Greensboro, N. C.

Ramey pointed out that there is no set limit on accident coverage, with the insurance company paying the amount needed for treatment of the injury, up to $3,000.

For accidental loss of life, if death occurs within 90 days from the date of fatal injury, $1,500 is allowed.

The policy, for 12 months, covers school-associated accidents. These are those that occur within one hour before and after school, or while on a school bus.

Football Excluded

All extra-curricular activities are included, except football for tenth, 11th or 12th graders.

The breakdown on the participation in the county is as follows: Board office, 37; Allegheny High, 730; Barton, 131; Beall Elementary, 350; Beall High, 362; Bruce, 368.

Carver, 8; Central, 280; Centre Street, 102; College Laboratory, 111; Columbia Street, 205; Corningville, 87; Cresaptown, 327; East Side, 202; Eckhart, 88.

He said that the roadway has been worn down almost to the sewer line in recent weeks. Murphy said he is unable to get out of his Piney Plains, 38; Valley, 368; car in front of his home due to the condition of the street. The matter was referred to J. Walker Chapman, roads supervisor.

The county board also sent a letter today to the Brosius Homes Corporation of Frederick in connection with the housing project in the Horse Rock Road area in Westernport.

The corporation wanted a letter from the county officially stating that no liens or assessments would be made against property owners in the housing project besides the normal real estate tax assessment made on all property within the county.

The county also informed the corporation that Horse Rock Road, Shawnee Road, Minnetonka Road and Whippoorwill Lane in the development will be taken over by the county for maintenance after the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company has graded and paved them. This is the normal procedure followed by the county in taking over roads improved in private developments to State Roads Commission specifications.

Youth Group To Be Formed For County

Commissioners Give Authority For Unit Following Conference

A youth commission will be selected in Allegheny County to act as an advisory body in dealing with all problems relating to the prevention and treatment of juvenile delinquency as well as problems affecting the welfare of youth in general.

Representatives of the group which attended Governor's Conference on the Prevention and Treatment of Juvenile Delinquency from Allegheny County met with the Allegheny County Board of Commissioners today to outline the plan.

They are Magistrate Fred Anderson of Juvenile Court, Homer S. Higgins, supervisor of pupil personnel for Allegheny County schools; Mrs. Elinor M. Westerfeld, director of the Allegheny County Welfare Board and Mrs. Jennie Graham, administrative assistant at the County Health Department.

Tells Of Program

He told the commissioners one of the recommendations submitted at the conference in Baltimore some weeks ago was for a youth commission in each county.

The local commission would work in cooperation with the Maryland State Commission and assist in carrying out, wherever applicable, the recommendations and projects suggested by the state commission, Anderson said.

The local commission would also act as a coordinating body wherein all agencies and groups of persons, interested in the problems of youth, could work together as one unit in stimulating the community toward whatever action might be needed in the particular county and the communities therein.

Broad Representation

It was pointed out at the conference that each youth commission should have a broad representation of devoted, conscientious, dedicated, youth minded people interested in the problems of youth, serve as members of the commission.

The county commissioners authorized the group to contact volunteers for the youth commission from various fraternal, civic, veterans, religious, business and labor organizations. After the commission is organized then the names would be submitted to the county board for approval.

The county board was unanimous in granting this authorization to the group.

Budget Jump Proposed For Salisbury

SALISBURY — Mayor Rollie W. Hastings last night presented to City Council a proposed budget of $1,431,359 for next year, or $62,090 more than the current spending program.

To balance the ledger, Hastings called for increasing the city tax rate 11 cents to $1.23 for every $100 of assessed valuation.

The present rate of $1.12 has been in effect for the last five years, having been reduced from the highest rate in the city's history—$1.25 in 1950-51.

The mayor's budget message said that in view of major commitments in bond issues required in the near future, it was important to finance all lesser projects from current revenues.

The council has until Dec. 27 to act on the budget.

Millikan 'Thankful' For Thanksgiving

Terps Open Cage Season Next Week Against GW

By J. SUTER KEGG
Evening Times Sports Editor

Thanksgiving is a holiday to which H. A. (Bud) Millikan looks forward every year. But unlike others who spend the day feasting on turkey and other, wise relaxing, the University of Maryland basketball coach will be utilizing Thursday to hold meetings and work out his cagers. And since Friday is also a school holiday, Millikan will be able to spend an additional full day with his squad.

The Maryland mentor unveils his squad tonight in a game against Roy Lester's freshmen in Cole Field House, but it won't be until a week from tomorrow that the Terrapins officially hoist the curtain on an attractive 23-game schedule. The Terps start off by entertaining neighborhood rival George Washington.

Play Kentucky Dec. 9
Tonight's game is being played for the benefit of the university's M Club scholarship fund. All proceeds go for scholarship assistance for minor sports.

The 1957-58 Terps, being touted as possibly the school's best ever, move to New York City on December 7 to meet the Rams of Fordham and return to play host to the Kentucky Wildcats two days later.

The game with Kentucky is expected to attract a near-capacity crowd to the 12,000-seat field house.

Fourteen of Maryland's contests will be home-and-home games with the other seven teams in the Atlantic Coast Conference. The first conference meeting comes on December 13 when the Terps engage Wake Forest at College Park.

In Sugar Bowl
In addition to GW, Fordham and Kentucky, other non-conference games will be with Navy, Vanderbilt, Georgetown and another foe yet to be named. The tussle with Vandy will come in the first game of the Sugar Bowl tournament at New Orleans December 28. The Terps will play again two nights later, the opponent to be determined by the outcome of the first. The two winners will meet in the second night of the Sugar Bowl, while the opening losers tangle with Ridgeley A. C. The next year he each other.

Maryland will meet Navy on a home-and-home basis, playing December 18 at College Park and February 1 at Annapolis, George Washington will also be encountered in the Cumberland Eagles. The Birds took on a lot of semi-pro clubs that year and finished with an impressive record.

One of his biggest thrills in baseball, he often said, was a 22-win 15 and lost nine during the inning game between his Ridgeley team and the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad team. Ridgeley beat the game, 1 to 0, in 22-inning North Carolina, the Terps beat Virginia, 71-68, in the opener but was upset, 74-64, by South Carolina in the semi-finals.

Gone from last year's fine Maryland team is Bob O'Brien, sharpshooter from McMechen, W. Va., who is regarded as one of the Terps' all-time greats.

Millikan, in releasing his schedule to the Evening Times today by telephone, said he isn't sure of a starting lineup for next week's lifeline. "I can tell you, however, that our first five will be selected from eight who have been looking good in practice," Bud declared.

Bunge Improving
These he listed as Perry Moore, Nick Davis, John Nicanick and Jim Hallock from last season's squad, all lettermen, and Harry Beechle, Tom Young, Al Bunge and Charles McNeil.

Young is a returning veteran, while Bunge, the 6-3 flash from Palmyra, N. J., is the big man for whom Millikan has been searching ever since coming to Maryland in the spring of 1950. Bunge is recovering from a serious illness (ulcerated colitis) and Millikan said if the rangy sophomore continues to show improvement he will see a lot of action this season.

Maryland has made rapid strides in the cage sport since the 37-year-old Millikan took over the reins. Last year, his Terps gave North Carolina, unbeaten in both regular and post-season play, one of its toughest games. The Tar Heels won, 63-61, in double overtime before 14,000 fans, largest crowd ever to see a basketball game in Maryland. Before the days of Millikan and the big new Cole Field House, Maryland's hoop games attracted only several hundred persons to the old Ritchie Coliseum.

Many fans who saw that memorable 1957 game with Carolina regard it as one of the best they have ever seen. The Terps missed several chances to hand the Tar Heels their only defeat. Perry Moore fumbled a pass under the basket in the last 18 seconds of regulation play and as the first overtime session ended Bob O'Brien's shot bounced off the back of the rim. The Terps were ahead by four prints in the partners.

HEADING FOR SHOWDOWN CLASH—The running and passing games of both Fort Hill High and Allegany will be handled by the above backs as the city rivals battle at the stadium in the Turkey Day classic this Thursday for the windup to the local football season. In the upper photo is the Alco quartet of quarterback Gary Shook, front, with his running mates (left to right) Nick Wenzick, Jack Craner and Charles Loewendick. Bottom shot shows the backfield of the defending-champion Sentinels with (left to right) Mike McCullough, Thurl Roy, Dalton Hillegas and Charles Robinson. Tom Davis may start in place of Roy and Shaw instead of Robinson. Kickoff for the holiday attraction is set for 1:30 p. m.

Turkey Day Foes End Grid Drills Tomorrow

With only two days remaining before the football clashes between Fort Hill and Allegany at the stadium and LaSalle and Beall in Frostburg on Thanksgiving Day, all four squads will conclude their drills tomorrow.

Reports from the four coaches reveal the teams should be at full strength aside from the injuries which had sidelined key players for the year earlier in the season.

Coach Chet Payne of Allegany has only one player from the starting team listed as doubtful but the Camper mentor has hopes he will be able to play against the Sentinels.

Stouffer Out Last Week
End Dave Stouffer, a two-way player and the Alco's extra-point kicker, has been out since the game against Frederick last week when he was unable to suit up because of a bout with the flu. Payne is expected to get a report on Stouffer's availability this afternoon.

In the event he is unable to play, Ron Riggs, a junior, will take over the terminal. The Camper, due to injuries earlier in this month, will have fullbacks Doug Walker and Gerry Horton; end definitely. Walker suffered a dislocated elbow in practice and Horton a nose injury against Thursday's Mountain City feature. Westminister. They are both finished for the season.

Payne, who will be concluding his second season as Camper boss, said that he will conduct a light workout today and tomorrow with Wednesday's session putting the last touches on the offense and defense.

Alco will carry a record of four wins and five losses into the holiday clash and be after its first victory over the Sentinels since the 1945 campaign. Since then two games (1948-53) finished in deadlocks.

Robinson To Return
At Fort Hill, coach Bill Hahn also reported his Sentinels have $50,000 Pimlico Special on Saturday nobody on the injured list and day.

quarterback Charles Robinson, who missed the last two games, will be ready to slip back into his signal-calling role. Tom Shaw had taken over for the injured Robinson, who was hurt in the contest against Westminister, and will probably alternate with Robinson.

Otherwise the unbeaten Red Raiders who will be out to nail down their tenth victory and 11th in a row over the past two seasons, will go with the lineup that has started most of the contests this fall.

Hahn also plans light workouts today and tomorrow. Beall and LaSalle, meeting for the 12th time since starting their series in 1946, also have the squads at top strength.

Coach Gerry Calhoun of the Mountaineers, who in his first season is already assured of at least a .500 record, will be able to send the same lineup against the Explorers that he has used since the mid point of the season.

Judges Snap String
The Mounties, with five victories and four losses, have been idle since seeing their four-game win streak snapped by Handley of Winchester, Va., 19-0, almost two weeks ago. The team came out of the scrap with the Judges with only minor ailments and they have all healed with the passing of time.

Beall will be after its second straight triumph over the locals, winning last year's thriller, 7-6, and making the series stand at eight wins for the Explorers, two for Beall and a 6-6 tie in 1951.

Coach Norm Geatz's North Centre Streeters, who have been in this month, involved in more close losing causes this season than most fans can remember, will be shooting for their fourth season triumph in Thursday's Mountain City feature.

The Explorers, who have won three and lost nine, have no serious ailments and will finish drills tomorrow afternoon.

Game time for both the traditional clashes will be 1:30 p. m.

Eighteen-year-old jockey Arthur Chambers had a winner at Jamaica last April on the first horse he ever rode in a race, but he's since decided it wasn't such a good thing. "Nobody knows me," said Chambers, now at Pimlico. "I wasn't able to follow through and cash in on it. A beginner should have more experience before he makes the winner's circle." Chambers has had only 14 more winners since then. A Japanese factory will be furnishing golf balls for the U. S. trade by the end of this year. F. S. Texas A&M Puts Two On INS' All-America

Navy's Tom Forrestal Placed At Quarterback

NEW YORK—(INS)—An all-star collection of talent from five major conferences and three leading independent teams was named today to the 1957 International News Service college football All-America.

Southwestern Conference leader Texas A & M, with two players, dominates the "dream team" compiled from recommendations of INS football experts from coast to coast with the assistance of coaches, scouts, broadcasters and newspaper sports editors.

The Big Ten and Big Eight conferences also placed two men apiece and the Southeast and Pacific Coast conferences have one representative each. Notre Dame gives the team a third Midwestern representative and the East contributed two players, from independents Army and Navy.

Young Team
The team is a markedly young one, with two juniors and one sophomore included. The line averages 210 pounds, and the gliding backfield of quarterback Tom Forrestal, Stransky and Anderson, who is the youngest man on the team at Stransky of Colorado, Bob Anderson of Iowa and John Crow of Texas A&M, averages a bruising 191 pounds.

One player on the big, shifty from Cocoa, Fla., already has, line is a repeater from the 1956 All-America. Charles Krueger of Texas A&M, called the best 60-minute player in the Southwest, held down his tackle position with critical blocks and tackles that kept a thinly-manned team like the Aggies in the national spotlight.

Two others, tackle Alex Karras of Iowa and center Dan Currie of Michigan State, moved up from last year's second team.

Cards, Reds On Verge Of Making Swap

CINCINNATI, O.—(INS)—Cincinnati's Redlegs and the St. Louis Cardinals reportedly were on the verge of a big trade today in a swap that would involve Redlegs catcher Smokey Burgess and Cardinal pitcher Willard Schmidt.

There has been no confirmation of the deal but Redlegs manager Gabe Paul was in St. Louis yesterday conferring with Cardinal general manager Bing Devine.

Schmidt last season won 10 games and lost three while used primarily as a relief pitcher.

Burgess, a second-string catcher, hit .283 for the Redlegs.

Kentucky Tackle Michaels Voted INS Player of Week

NEW YORK—(INS)—The jarring tackling of All-American Lou Michaels of Kentucky has distinguished the 235-pound lineman as college football's Player of the Week.

By paving the way for Kentucky's 20-to-6 upset of Tennessee Saturday, the burly 21-year-old tackle from Swoyersville, Pa., nosed out such individual backfield stars as Dick Christy of North Carolina State, Dan Sachs of Princeton, Billy Atkins of Auburn and Don White of Ohio State in the weekly poll of International News Service's panel of experts.

The panel also selected these other "best of the week" performances:

Game of the Week—Ohio State's 31-to-14 shellacking of Michigan.

Play of the Week—A 36-yard field goal by Dick Christy of North Carolina State after time had run out to give his team's 29-to-26 victory over South Carolina.

Coach of the Week—Woody Hayes, Ohio State.

Here's the evidence considered by the panel consisting of Shrine East-West game scouts Bernie Bierman, Andy Kerr and Francis J. Powers; INS columnist Bob Considine, and INS sports editor John Barrington:

Player of the Week—Lou Michaels, named to the INS All-American second team, helped bring Kentucky its first victory in seven Southeastern Conference games by kicking a loose Tennessee ball into the end zone for a touchdown and then converting.

Michals booted the ensuing kickoff and met the runner head-on for another fumble, recovered and converted into another Kentucky touchdown. He set up a third score in the final period with a smashing tackle that caused Tennessee to lose the ball again.

Game of the Week—Ohio State already had clinched the Big Ten title six straight conference wins but there was still Ohio's toughest opponent, Michigan, to face. The Buckeyes had beaten their arch rivals only once since 1937 at Ann Arbor. Their leading scorer, Don Clark, was out with an injury. But Ohio rallied from a halftime deficit, with Clark's sub, Bob White, eating most of the yardage, to rout them, 31 to 14, and clinch the Rose Bowl with Oregon.

Play of the Week—Dick Christy scored four touchdowns and two conversions for North Carolina State but it wasn't enough. South Carolina scored with a minute left and the game ended in a tie. Officials waved the fans off the field, however, calling pass interference on South Carolina on the last play. With the clock reading zero, Christy kicked a 36-yard field goal for a 29-to-26 win.

Woody Hayes is setting a record for longevity at football-mad Ohio State. He has been there seven years, ever since Wes Fesler's Big Ten champs couldn't repeat in 1950. He has produced some outstanding teams since, among them the 1955 Rose Bowl champions. Old grads were horrified when OSU lost its opener, a rarity, to Texas Christian this year but Hayes brought the Bucks back for eight straight victories. The Big Ten title, the Rose Bowl and a possible national championship.

Coach of the Week—Woody Hayes, Ohio State.

Here's the evidence considered by the panel consisting of Shrine East-West game scouts Bernie Bierman, Andy Kerr and Francis J. Powers; INS columnist Bob Considine, and INS sports editor John Barrington:

Player of the Week—Lou Michaels, named to the INS All-American second team, helped bring Kentucky its first victory in seven Southeastern Conference games by kicking a loose Tennessee ball into the end zone for a touchdown and then converting.

Michals booted the ensuing kickoff and met the runner head-on for another fumble, recovered and converted into another Kentucky touchdown. He set up a third score in the final period with a smashing tackle that caused Tennessee to lose the ball again.

Game of the Week—Ohio State already had clinched the Big Ten title six straight conference wins but there was still Ohio's toughest opponent, Michigan, to face. The Buckeyes had beaten their arch rivals only once since 1937 at Ann Arbor. Their leading scorer, Don Clark, was out with an injury. But Ohio rallied from a halftime deficit, with Clark's sub, Bob White, eating most of the yardage, to rout them, 31 to 14, and clinch the Rose Bowl with Oregon.

Two Atlantic Teams Still In Bowl Picture

By The Associated Press. — Though Duke has the Atlantic Coast Conference's bid to play in the Orange Bowl, there are still bowl hopefuls in the ACC football picture as the season closes this weekend.

The hopefuls, North Carolina and Clemson, each have games Saturday.

Three ACC teams—North Carolina, Duke and Maryland—ended their seasons last Saturday. N. C. State won the conference championship but, because of an NCAA ban, could not play in the Orange Bowl against Oklahoma Nov. 29. Consequently, the bid went to Duke, which secured second place in the standings.

Gator After Clemson. — Normally, that should end ACC bowl speculation because conference regulations and the contract with the Orange Bowl limit ACC bowl participation to one team. But it didn't.

The Gator Bowl reportedly is interested in Clemson as a participant in the Dec. 23 game at Jacksonville, Fla. And President Bob Cullum of the Cotton Bowl believes that the ACC could waive its regulations to let Clemson or North Carolina come to the game at Dallas, Texas, Jan. 1.

ACC's bowl committee chair, man, C. P. Erickson of North Carolina, affirmed that Clemson of his three-ranked graduate moved into the bowlweight elimination series. The chase for the title vacated by middleweight king Carmen Basilio includes Martinez, Cuba's Isaac Logart and Virgil Akins of St. Louis.

The outing against Crawford last night was hardly a test for Dupas, who posted his 6th victory against eight losses and six draws. The triumph was his third over a welterweight after decisions over Martinez and veteran Joe Miceli earlier this year.

"Man, I couldn't see those right hands coming," Crawford said in his dressing room. "He'd feint with a left and then bang! bang! bang! That right hand was in my face. He's the fastest thing I've ever seen."

Dupas pulled a 9-1 verdict on two officials' cards and 8-2 on the other. The AP card had Dupas a 9-1 winner. Dupas weighed 141½, Crawford 147.

'Lane Can Jump In Lake,' Says Manager Of Dupas

By ED TUNSTALL. NEW ORLEANS — (AP) — The manager of lightweight contender Ralph Dupas, irked by what he called "the old run around," said today top-rated challenger Kenny Lane can "go jump in the lake as far as we're concerned."

The somewhat reworded admonition of Manager Whitey Esneault came as promoter Bonny Giegerman wired Lane and Manager Jack Kears a $10,000 offer to meet speedy Dupas here around the first of the year. The offer came after Dupas posted an easy 10-round decision over promising but outclassed welterweight Mickey Crawford of Saginaw, Mich., last night.

"I don't think we want anything to do with Lane," said Esneault in scorching eloquence. "We almost begged him to meet us and he turned us down cold, but now that he needs the dough, he's looking to us for a payday."

Dupas and Lane have met twice with each taking a decision. Giegerman said another meeting would pull a $50,000 gate. Dupas' matches against Frankie Ryff two years ago and welterweight Vince Martinez both attracted $40,000 gates.

Esneault said he was considering a proposition for Dupas to meet Vic Towel of South Africa in London next month and was also mulling over the possibility of his three-ranked graduate moving into the welterweight elimination series. The chase for the title vacated by middleweight king Carmen Basilio includes Martinez, Cuba's Isaac Logart and Virgil Akins of St. Louis.

Campanella, Snider Sign

LOS ANGELES — (INS) — The Los Angeles Dodgers have signed their two strong men, centerfielder Duke Snider and catcher Roy Campanella, to 1958 contracts. Dodger vice president Buzzie Bavasi reported that Snider, who signed for $42,000, was the highest salaried player on the Los Angeles roster.

The hard-hitting Campanella, who was three times voted the league's Most Valuable Player, will receive $38,000 for next season's work.

Both players took a salary cut for 1958, the first year the Dodgers will play in Los Angeles. Bavasi said Snider's cut was a "token" reduction but that Campanella had a substantial cut after having what Bavasi called a "miserable" season. Bavasi said: "Actually, I thought Snider had a fine year, but when we don't win the pennant, the players must suffer with us."

Snider, who has a major league lifetime batting average of .303, batted .274 in 1957 and walloped 40 home runs. It was the fifth straight year that Snider had 40 or more homers.

Campanella batted out 13 homers and batted .242 last season. His lifetime batting average is .276.

Colts Train Defenses On Rams' Berry

BALTIMORE — The Los Angeles Rams will do well to watch out for a guy who is near-sighted, has a trick back and one leg shorter than the other when they play the Baltimore Colts in Memorial Stadium Sunday.

Raymond — he doesn't like to be called Ray — Berry is one of the National Football League's leading pass catchers despite his physical handicaps.

Fields Tough Ones. — Most important of all to the Colts he fields the hard ones — leaping high, falling down or tumbling over a defender.

Coach Frankie Albert of the San Francisco 49ers saw him make an "almost unbelievable catch and that was the ball game as far as I was concerned," he said after the Colts won Sunday.

The Colts were trailing 21-20 with two minutes to play and on their own 45 with third down and 14 to go when Berry caught a 31-yard pass amidst three defenders. The Colts traveled the rest of the way to score and win the game 27-21.

Berry's biggest day this season was Nov. 10 at Washington where he caught a dozen passes for 224 yards and two touchdowns. He has caught a total of 31 this season, five over the goal.

Wears Contact Lenses. — Most of the time he wears contact lenses to see the ball coming. He has a harness on his back to keep it in place and mud cleats on one shoe to compensate for a short leg.

The Colts picked Berry in 1955 after he finished playing at Southern Methodist. Even though he stuck as a rookie, he didn't stand out. But because he became a star — by constantly comparing game films of himself and of the best professional ends.

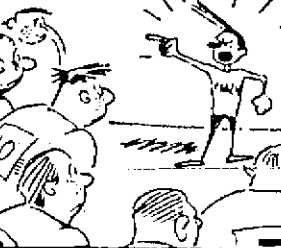

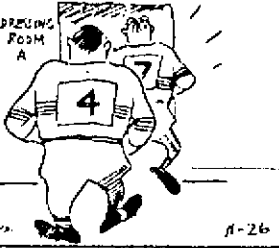

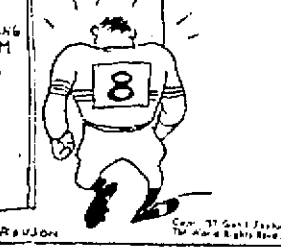

Delaware Wants No Bowl Battle

ORLANDO, Fla. — The University of Delaware has withdrawn from consideration as a possible participant in the 12th annual Tangerine Bowl football game Jan. 1.

Members of the selection committee announced Delaware's withdrawal following a meeting yesterday. They said Delaware did not want to play in any post season games.

Opposition for Mississippi Southern has now been narrowed to Virginia Military Institute and East Texas State.

Spartans Close Season Leading Dunkel Ratings

By DICK DUNKEL

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. — (Special) — Top teams in the college football Power Index scarcely budged after last Saturday's games, since most justified their ratings on the day's results.

Michigan State closed out its season in first place after beating Kansas State 27-9. In compiling their 8-1 record, the Spartans set an average scoring margin of 21.6 points per game over opponents indexed at 39.5 for the nation's highest total rating of 110.5.

Ohio State's Rose Bowl entry, also 8-1, is a close second with 109.9 after knocking off Michigan 31-14. The Buckeyes earned their rating by setting a 19-1 margin over 90.8 opposition.

Other national leaders, their records, and winning scores of last Saturday, are: Iowa 7-1-1, 21-13 over Notre Dame; Oklahoma 18-1, 32-1 over Nebraska; Auburn 10-0, 29-7 over Florida State; Texas A & M 13-1, didn't play; Mississippi 12-1, didn't play; Wisconsin 16-3, 14-6 over Minnesota; Purdue 15-4, 35-13 over Indiana; Illinois 14-5, 27-0 over Northwestern; Navy 7-1-1, didn't play; Rice 16-3, 20-0 over TCU.

Ted And Malzone Branded By Sox As 'Untouchable'

BOSTON — Boston General Manager Joe Cronin says Ted Williams and Frank Malzone are the only Red Sox "untouchables" but that chances for a major deal at the annual winter meetings appear slim.

"The only players we wouldn't trade are Williams and Malzone," Cronin said yesterday. "We'd trade anybody else if we could get full value received — if we could get players whom we feel would help us more than the ones we now have."

Cronin said it is "most difficult" to make a deal involving what he called "regular players."

West Virginia's Title Game Thrown For 'Loss' By Judge

BLUEFIELD, W. Va. — (AP) — A circuit judge has thrown a legal block on State Athletic officials' plans for a Thanksgiving Day championship football game.

Judge F. Morton Wagner issued an injunction yesterday restraining the West Virginia Secondary School Activities Commission from matching Fairmount West and Weirton in the scheduled Class AA title game Thursday.

Two young football players from Big Creek High School in the town of Weirton petitioned for the injunction. The players, Robert G. Hobbins and Roy Bellamy, claimed their team lost out on a title game because of a "conspiracy" involving W. R. Fugitt, executive secretary of the activities commission.

The players, represented by the President Honor Hickman of the Big Creek Athletic Commission, Coast League next season if the local government "angel" can be found with $200,000 or more to fix up the baseball park here.

Mayor Willard Taft and a six-man committee started looking today for some way to get the money after Dick Walsh, president of the Los Angeles club, indicated the Angels were ready to move here.

The Big Creek petition maintains that: 1. Each Class AA team must play five public schools in their own class to be eligible for the championship game.

2. Martins Ferry, an opponent of Weirton, has had only 247 male students both this year and during the 1956-57 school year and thus falls three shy of the 250 male student requirement for a Class AA school in West Virginia.

3. Although Martins Ferry qualified as a Class AA school in the 1955-56 school year with 299 male students, it should have been reclassified last year under the by-laws of the West Virginia commission.

4. Had Martins Ferry been reclassified, Weirton would not have played enough Class AA teams to qualify for the title game and Big Creek would have gotten the nod to meet Fairmount West on Thanksgiving Day.

On Sunday, the same claim by Big Creek was rejected by the Athletic Board of Appeals which said Martins Ferry's classification was correctly based on the 1955-56 enrollment figure of 299

Collegian Meets Slade Tonight

MILWAUKEE — Orville Pitts of Milwaukee, a tall, lean college student with just 6 minutes and 40 seconds of pro ring experience, tries to make a national name for himself tonight.

The 23-year-old former intercollegiate boxing champion from the University of Wisconsin meets veteran Jimmy Slade of New York, ninth ranking light heavyweight on the National Boxing Assn.'s list, in a 10-round bout at the auditorium.

Pitts has had three pro fights and recorded three first-round knockouts — over foes who obviously were no match for him. Slade, 31, has been stopped only three times in his 46 fights since 1919. Many of them were against the best in his division. Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson administered one of the kayos.

Slade has beaten Don Cockell, Hurricane Jackson, Clarence Henry and Bert Lytell, among others. He has gone the distance with Patterson, Harold Johnson and Archie Moore.

The Southern California Ladies Major Traveling League is applying for the 10-team league bowls for 27 weeks in as many different establishments.

North's three club bid was a Stayman response and asked South to show a four card major suit if he held one. East's double of three clubs was pointless. No one was going to play clubs and he did not particularly want a club lead.

West did open the six of clubs and South looked over dummy carefully. If he could pick up the queen of hearts everything would be fine. Normal play would be to lay down the ace and king but East's double of three clubs had indicated club length. East had to be short somewhere; maybe it would be in hearts.

Actually South would have played West for three hearts to the queen if he had not noted another possibility.

He led the ace and a low heart and went right up with dummy's king just as if he had no care in the world. His next play was a low spade from dummy and East ducked. He did not know that his partner had a trump trick and was looking for two tricks in spades.

Of course he wound up with none. Once the king of spades held South went right after the diamond suit and dummy's two remaining spades were quickly disposed of.

East's play had been tragically bad. He should have seen that he just wasn't going to get two spade tricks in any event and that he had better take his ace while he had the opportunity.

Teacher Troublesome When Visiting Abroad

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Don't tell the kids, but teachers can be troublesome when abroad.

"They get so interested in what they are seeing that they get behind and are liable to be straggled behind and are liable to get lost," says Dr. Wesley Chitt, president of Albany State College for Teachers.

The professor should know. He has escorted teachers to Europe of seven times, usually in groups of ages about 20.

Court Rules Newspaper Story Libelous

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — The Court of Appeals has ruled that a newspaper article published in the Salisbury Times was intrinsically libelous and has sent the case back to Wicomico County Circuit Court for further proceedings.

The suit brought by Sheriff Jesse M. Pollitt against Brush Moore Newspapers, Inc., owners of the Times, asked $50,000 damages.

In a second libel suit brought by the Sheriff against the newspaper, the High Court upheld dismissal. Both suits had been dismissed in circuit court on defense motion.

The Times unquoted auditors as saying they found jail records "incomplete." The actual report said the auditors found the record "complete" and Sheriff Pollitt contended that printing the word "incomplete" was false and malicious.

The sheriff also said the article "led the public to believe the plaintiff was guilty of a misdemeanor under Maryland law."

Attorneys for the Times argued that the article was not actionable because the words did not charge the sheriff with a crime and the key word was "an obvious typographical error" and did not amount to an attack on the man's name or reputation.

In rejecting the Times' argument, the High Court said:

"The entire newspaper article containing the auditor's report was written in such a manner as to create a false, inaccurate and misleading impression in the minds of the public by taking certain portions therefrom out of context and by carefully omitting other portions, all of which were designed to and intended to degrade the plaintiff and expose him to contempt and ridicule and to prejudice his reputation as a private citizen and public official."

Yule Session Of Delaware Assembly Set

DOVER, Del. (AP) — A special pre-Christmas session of the Delaware general assembly was called yesterday by Gov. J. Caleb Boggs to face what he called a financial crisis.

Declaring a special session essential to balance the state budget, Boggs, a Republican, set Dec. 3 for legislators to meet. Majority Democrats had opposed such a session, saying finances could be dealt with properly in next year's regular session.

The governor said he was making an emergency request to all state agencies to cut spending 10 per cent to help the state meet an operating deficit.

Delaware's budget for the current fiscal year is 69 million dollars. The state borrowed 3 million dollars in October and another 7 million dollars this month. To meet the December payroll it is expected to seek loans for 4 million dollars more.

While Democrats, in control of both houses, have spoken against any tax increase, some political observers have expressed belief an increase is inevitable.

NATO Big Three Due To Become Big Four

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

The Big Three of NATO is about to become the Big Four.

That is a part of the significance of the hurried visit to Washington of West Germany's foreign minister at a time when efforts are being made to reinvigorate the Western alliance.

By the same token, the demarcation line between East and West through Germany tends to become more and more permanent, with reunification taking a back seat in favor of defense.

Russian objectives in East Germany have always seemed more political than military, but the latter have not been exactly neglected. Russia, in addition to keeping large forces there, long ago formed military units among the Germans, and is now reported to be installing missile launchers from which all the capitals of Europe could be struck.

The United States is preparing to do likewise in West Germany, although not planning to turn the weapons over to the Germans themselves, as the Russians have done.

As so often happens, news of the Russian launching sites was released by Western intelligence sources at the same time Russia issued a new warning to West Germany about the same thing.

And, coincidentally, George Kennan, the historical philosopher, chose the same time to suggest that the nations might well reconsider the idea of a neutralized, reunited Germany.

If it were possible to do that, he thinks, with all foreign forces withdrawn, then the Eastern European satellites might be able to generate enough pressure to force withdrawal of Russian troops to their home territory.

The contest for missile sites seems to obviate all that. The intermediate-range missiles, which are the only ones ready for production by either side, have ranges of around 1,000-1,500 miles.

With their launching sites ready in Europe, Russia will be in a position to step up her "negotiations from strength."

She hopes eventually to frighten some nations into neutralism.

Mary Haworth's Mail

Editor's Note: Possessive auditor insults girl's friends; is marriage advisable?

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I have a problem that merits serious discussion, I think. I am a girl 19, blond (attractive and pretty, I'm told), and fun to be with—except that my steady boy friend doesn't think so. He is a clean-living generous boy, of a fairly well-to-do family. But he is very jealous of everyone I know—girls and boys alike.

He is so possessive that he openly insults friends we've both known a long time. He charges me with flirting and running around when I don't see him—which isn't true. I am friendly, but I wouldn't call it flirting; and I have no desire for other boy friends, as I am so mixed up right now that I don't know which way to turn.

He expects me to be nice to him. But how can I, when he is forever insulting me with these accusations, and actually cries when I tell him I don't want to see him again unless he conquers this jealousy. Out of pity I go out with him again; and I do like him very much except for this possessiveness.

Has A History Of Anxiety

I was in the hospital two months ago—laid up for six weeks with neurotic anxiety, which I'm subject to, the doctor said. And quarrels with John don't help.

We've known each other four years and have been going steady the past 10 months. There is talk of marriage between us; and he plans to give me a very expensive cedar chest for Christmas. I don't know if I should accept it or not, in view of how I feel.

I certainly don't want to waste my life—or his. All this discord seems so unnecessary; and is driving me to a nervous breakdown. Please let me hear from you.

E. L.

Each A Problem In His Own Right

DEAR E. L.: Weighing the advisability of marrying John, you say (in your letter here condensed) that he would want you to live in the country with his folks. Whereas you'd want him to move into town, so you two could be alone—and he rejects that idea.

You mention further that he's in line to inherit his father's business some day, and meantime has a fairly good income as an electrician, which gives him a measure of independence.

So why does he cling to the country? Probably for the same reason that makes him destructively jealous.

I think you would be sticking your head into a noose of sorts, if you were to marry this lad—who has so little self-confidence that he feels betrayed at the very thought of being compared to others, in your daily rounds.

That's why he tries to eliminate competition; why he fears, resents and insults your friends—as if all were enemies, wrecking his campaign for your love.

Girl's Greedy For Adultery

This same lack of self-confidence blocks him from moving out into life—beyond his parents' bailiwick. And there's nothing you can do to dig him out of his hysterical fixation that he is no good. Rather, help for yourself consists in getting at the inside personal cause of your chronic anxiety neurosis.

Probably you cling to John despite his self-damning behavior (which cripples your life also) mainly because you are an inordinately self-loving person, hence crave extremely worshipful treatment from a boy friend. This you get from John, but at a ruinous price; and while you rebel at the price, nevertheless you still feel that you can't quite do without his crazy adulation.

As for guidance—obviously the sensible course is to recognize that you are throwing yourself away on John; and that he is altogether a blight in your life. So break off the association. And if necessary, get psychiatric or analytic help in hitting the stride of normally resilient young people, who don't want or expect as much spoiling and pampering as you and John require.—M. H.
